Background

This is an annual report produced for the Learning and Teaching Committee, designed to report on the volume of extenuating circumstances requests received and granted including self-certification.

Discussion

The data table included gives an overview of the extenuating circumstances requests received and granted for the academic year 2016/7 broken down by School of Study, Level of Study including stage, reason for request and volume of self-certification.

Over 15,000 requests were made and granted with over 7,000 of these being self-certification requests. Although not a universal finding it is generally the case that the instances of extenuating circumstances requests are higher in the middle years of a course (years 2 and 3 depending on the course duration).

The majority of extenuating circumstances requests for which data on reasons are available are health related.
