

LIBRARY SEARCH

We have designed Library Search to be the best starting point possible for your research. It will return results containing academic books, ebooks and journal articles, as well as CDs, DVDs, conference proceedings, theses and reference works.

If you want to go into a bit more depth, you should also try using the 'Find E-Journals' and 'Find Databases' options from the top bar – the rest of this guide explains how to do that.

Access more library services, including your Library Account, from the top bar.

Library Search works like Google – so it will assume an 'AND' in between each search term. You can use quotation marks to search for a phrase, e.g. "Social media" or try using Advanced Search.

The screenshot shows the UEA Library Search homepage. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links: Library Homepage, Find E-Journals, Find Databases, Subject Guides, Reading Lists, Digital Repository, and Library Account (with a 'Renew' link). Below this is a search bar with the text 'social media surveillance' and a 'SEARCH' button. A callout points to the 'Library Account' link in the top bar. Another callout points to the search bar, explaining that the search works like Google and uses 'AND' for multiple terms.

Below the search bar, the search results are displayed. The first result is a book titled 'Internet and surveillance: the challenges of Web 2.0 and social media' edited by Christian Fuchs. A callout points to the 'VIEW AND REQUEST A COPY' link for this book. Another callout points to the 'Classmark' 'HM851 FUC' and the 'Status' '30/04/18 23:50 - Standard loan', explaining that this is the shelf location and that items on loan can be put on hold for. A third callout points to the 'PDF FULL TEXT' link for the second result, 'Why Does China Allow Freer Social Media? Protests versus Surveillance and Propaganda', explaining that this link is used to view journal articles. A fourth callout points to the 'Limit To' filters on the left, such as 'Available via UEA Library', 'Catalogue Only', and 'Articles (Peer Reviewed)', explaining that these options can be used to find specific sources like ebooks or academic journals.

Use the options on the left to find particular sources e.g. 'ebooks' or articles from 'Academic Journals'.

To view journal articles click on 'PDF full text' link or 'UEA Access'

FIND E-JOURNALS >

Use the A-Z of e-journals to find out if we have a journal available online, and which years you can access. This can be very useful if you are looking for a specific journal article, for example:

Holmes, N. (2018), Engaging with assessment: Increasing student engagement through continuous assessment. Active Learning In Higher Education, 19 (1), pp. 23-34.

1. Enter the journal title in the search box. From our example this is Active learning in higher education. Click 'Search'.

Find E-Journals

The screenshot shows the 'Find E-Journals' search interface. At the top, there is a search box containing the text 'Active learning in higher education'. To the right of the search box are two radio buttons: 'Contains' (selected) and 'Starts With'. Below the search box are two dropdown menus labeled 'Browse by subject' and 'Browse by provider'. A checkbox labeled 'Peer reviewed journals only' is checked. To the right of the checkbox are 'RESET' and 'SEARCH' buttons. Below the search interface is a navigation bar with letters A through Z and 'OTHERS'. Below the navigation bar, there is a section titled '1 Results'. The first result is 'Active learning in higher education [1469-7874]'. It is marked as 'PEER REVIEWED'. There are two links: 'Get UEA access via EBSCOhost E-Journals Available from 2000 volume: 1 issue: 1' and 'Get UEA access via JISC Collections Sage Premier 2015 Available from 2000 volume: 1 issue: 1'. To the right of the result, there are two categories: 'Arts and Humanities: Education & Careers' and 'Arts and Humanities: General and Others'.

Tip: Note that we may have the same journal from different providers, and that coverage dates may vary. Make sure you choose a provider that gives access to the date you need.

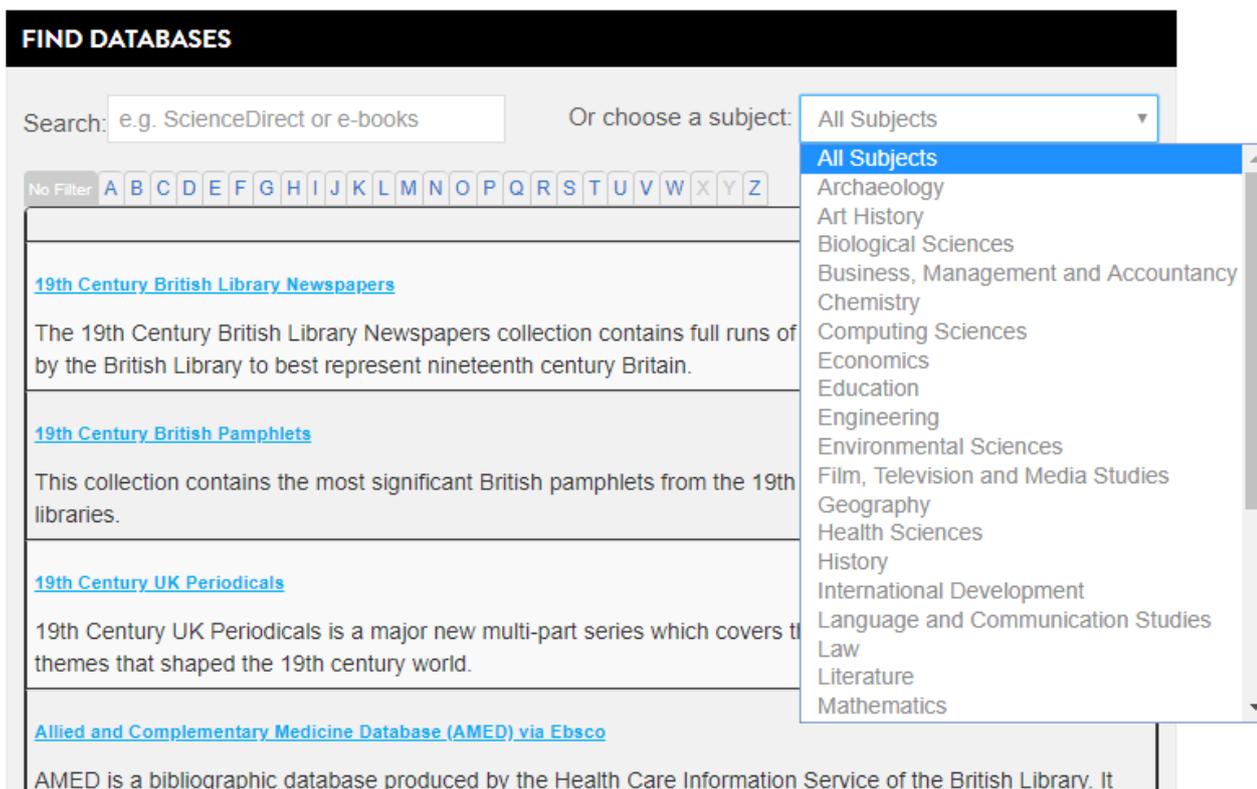

2. Click on the 'Get UEA access...' link to link out to the journal.

Tip: If the year you need isn't available electronically, remember to check and see if it is in print in the library.

FIND DATABASES

If you want to access other databases to search beyond Library Search, or if you want to access a specific resource, use the 'Find Databases' option to generate a list of resources for your subject.
