Subject: beo and Hands On merger

Dear Tracey,

We are delighted to announce that beo and Hands On have now formally merged our business and operations. Both Cameron and Paul will remain as directors and continue to manage and grow the business. This merger has been facilitated through a strategic partnership with, and significant investment from, Kaplan. The Hands On brand will continue in Thailand for the time being whilst we consider unifying the brand over time. Over the coming months we will be integrating administration, contracts and invoicing and other processes as quickly as we can. We firmly believe that the sharing of good practice and streamlining of administration will enhance the service and support that we provide to you and your students and we look forward to your continued support.
