

Follow-up response to Freedom of Information Act 2000 request (FOI_14-006)

Original request, received 06 January 2014:

I would like to know the following information:

- lost property that has been handed in / found over the past three academic years.

I would like the information broken down on a yearly basis. I would also like the information to appear as a list.

I would also like details of the lost property that was handed.

I would also like to know if the items in lost property was ever recovered by their owner.

This information was provided on 10 January 2014.

Follow-up request, received on 10 January 2014:

I was hoping for some more detailed information on the miscellaneous section. Do you think it would be possible to get a run down of the individual items within this category?

A breakdown of the 'Miscellaneous' lost property can be found in the following tables.

The University takes reasonable steps to identify the owner of found property, and to verify the validity of claims on property. Additionally we pass details of found items that are valuable, distinctive or potentially harmful / illegal to the police as appropriate. The University's lost property regulations changed in August 2012. Low value items are no longer recorded, in line with the new regulations.

For more information on UEA's lost property regulations see:
