Background

Following the decision to withdraw from UEA London an action plan was developed detailing how validated provision delivered by INTO UEA London, including the London Academy of Diplomacy, would be managed during the withdrawal period.

UEA London Withdrawal
Action Plan for Management of Validated Provision (2014 calendar year)
Updated 13 June 2014

Key: PO Partnerships Office
ADP Academic Director of Partnerships
HP Head of Partnerships

 Standard QA monitoring activity
 Additional activity
 Completed activity

Note: as far as possible and if appropriate, meetings with London partners are held by videoconference

This action plan should be read in conjunction with the report on UEA London submitted to UEA's Learning and Teaching Committee at the 29th January 2014 meeting (Document no: LTC12D036) which included details of the initial communication with staff and students regarding the arrangements.

INTO UEA London – Pathway Provision

The UEA International Progression Manager has co-ordinated meetings with INTO students to support them in making progression choices to UEA in Norwich or other institutions if necessary.

The JBOS has continued to monitor minutes of student academic forum meetings and Partnerships Office attend meetings where possible.

The Academic Director left on 31 May 2014 and a process to replace her is underway. Peter Niklewicz is currently Acting Academic Director.

All students on UEA-validated INTO programmes will complete by September 2014.

London Academy of Diplomacy

Programmes will continue to be delivered according to UEA's requirements until students complete their programme or transfer to another validating partner. Although it had been previously reported that a validation agreement had been signed with Stirling University, the picture is now less clear. UEA are in close contact with IUP to clarify the position.

The JBOS has continued to monitor minutes of student academic forum meetings and Partnerships Office attend meetings where possible. The Partnerships Office have been in email contact with the student representatives in London and have met those in Rome.

Arrangements for access to UEA e-resources have been made via a dedicated webpage.

The Academy will continue to provide services and data, including data which forms part of the HESA return as requested by UEA.
