

Prizes and Awards Nominations

The following list of award nominations, including links to relevant websites, was put together by Research & Enterprise Services in 2016/17.

A list of organisations represented in the table is given in full at the end of this document. Any additions for the next version should be notified to j.warner@uea.ac.uk

Call Type	Organisation	Award	Eligibility	Next Deadline	Web
Annual	Genetics Society	Genetics Society Medal	The Genetics Society Medal is an award that recognizes outstanding research contributions to genetics.	28 April 2017	http://www.genetics.org.uk/Prizes/GeneticsSocietyMedal.aspx
Annual	Genetics Society	Mary Lyon Medal	This new award, named after the distinguished geneticist Mary Lyon FRS, was established in 2015 to reward outstanding research in genetics to scientists who are in the middle of their research career	28 April 2017	http://www.genetics.org.uk/Prizes/MaryLyonMedal.aspx
Annual	Genetics Society	The Balfour Lecture	The Balfour Lecture, named after the Genetics Society's first President, is an award to mark the contributions to genetics of an outstanding young investigator	28 April 2017	http://www.genetics.org.uk/Prizes/BalfourLecture.aspx
Annual	Genetics Society	JBS Haldane Lecture	The JBS Haldane Lecture will recognise an individual for outstanding ability to communicate topical subjects in genetics research, widely interpreted, to an interested lay audience	28 April 2017	http://www.genetics.org.uk/Prizes/JBSHaldaneLecture.aspx
Annual	American Physical Society	Fluid Dynamics Prize	To recognize and encourage outstanding achievement in fluid dynamics research. The prize consists of $100,000, an allowance for registration and travel to the meeting at which the prize is awarded, and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient.	01 May 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/fluid.cfm
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	George Michael Memorial HPC Fellowship	Honors exceptional PhD students throughout the world whose research focus is on high-performance computing applications, networking, storage, or large-scale data analysis using the most powerful computers that are currently available. The awards are presented each November at the annual SC Conference, where the recipients are recognized at the SC Awards Ceremony. Each fellowship is accompanied by an honorarium of $5000 plus travel expenses to attend SC.	01 May 2017	http://awards.acm.org/hpcfell/nominations.cfm
Annual	Society for Applied Microbiology	W H Pierce Prize	This prestigious prize is awarded each year at the Annual Applied Microbiology Conference to a young microbiologist (under 40!) who has made a substantial contribution to the science of applied microbiology. It is worth £3000! Application is through nomination by Full Members of the Society only	13 May 2017	http://www.sfam.org.uk/en/grants--awards/supporting-microbiology/w-h-pierce-prize/index.cfm
Annual	The Leverhulme Trust	Philip Leverhulme Prizes	Recognise the achievement of outstanding researchers whose work has already attracted international recognition and whose future career is exceptionally promising. Every year the prize scheme makes up to thirty awards of £100,000, across range of academic disciplines. (2017 disciplines are: Biological Sciences; History; Law; Mathematics and Statistics; Philosophy and Theology; Sociology and Social Policy - future years are available via the website). Nominees must hold either a permanent post or a long-term fellowship in a UK institution of higher education or research that would extend beyond the duration of the Prize. Nominees should normally have been awarded their doctoral degree not more than ten years prior to the closing date.	17 May 2017	https://www.leverhulme.ac.uk/funding/grant-schemes/philip-leverhulme-prizes
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	Faraday Medal	It is the most prestigious of the IET Achievement Medals and is awarded either for notable scientific or industrial achievement in engineering or for conspicuous service rendered to the advancement of science, engineering and technology or for lifetime achievement in science, engineering or technology. The Award is made without restriction as regards nationality, country of residence or membership of the IET.	26 May 2017	http://conferences.theiet.org/achievement/awards/medals/faraday.cfm
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	Mountbatten Medal	The recipient will receive a Bronze Medal and vellum scroll and be invited to sign the Roll of Honour album. Nominators are required to upload the candidate's Curriculum Vitae (CV) of no more than 2 pages or a link to a URL where the candidate's professional profile is available. In selecting a winner, the panel gives particular emphasis to: the stimulation of public awareness of the significance and value of electronics; spreading recognition of the economic significance of electronics and IT, and encouraging their effective use throughout industry in general; encouraging excellence in product innovation and the successful transition of scientific advances to wealth-creating products; recognising brilliance in academic and industrial research; encouraging young people of both sexes to make their careers in the electronics and IT industries; increasing the awareness of the importance of electronics and IT amongst teachers and others in the educational disciplines.	26 May 2017	http://conferences.theiet.org/achievement/awards/medals/mountbatten.cfm
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	Mensforth Manufacturing Gold Medal	The highest recognition the IET can give in this field, the Medal is awarded to a person making an outstanding contribution to the advancement of manufacturing engineering technology or manufacturing management. Nominators are required to upload the candidate's Curriculum Vitae (CV) of no more than 2 pages or a link to a URL where the candidate's professional profile is available. We welcome nominations for women and men from around the world whose achievements have conferred great benefit on the UK and its people. You do not need to be an IET Member to make a nomination or be nominated.	26 May 2017	http://conferences.theiet.org/achievement/awards/medals/mensforth.cfm
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	J J Thomson Medal for Electronics	The J J Thomson Medal is awarded to candidates who have made major and distinguished contributions in electronics. Nominators are required to upload the candidate's Curriculum Vitae (CV) of no more than 2 pages or a link to a URL where the candidate's professional profile is available. We welcome nominations for women and men from around the world whose achievements have conferred great benefit on the UK and its people. You do not need to be an IET Member to make a nomination or be nominated	26 May 2017	http://conferences.theiet.org/achievement/awards/medals/thomson.cfm
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	IET Achievement Medals	Up to five Achievement Medals are awarded for excellence in any area of engineering, technology or applied science. Nominators are required to upload the candidate's Curriculum Vitae (CV) of no more than 2 pages or a link to a URL where the candidate's professional profile is available. You do not need to be a Member of the IET to make a nomination or be nominated.	26 May 2017	http://conferences.theiet.org/achievement/awards/medals/achieve-medals.cfm
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	Mike Sargeant Award	Please note only one nomination is required per candidate and self-nominations will not be accepted. The Award is made annually to a young professional who is judged to have made the most significant achievement in their career for three years or more. The nominee may have shown exceptional leadership in developing a project, have contributed creatively when developing a new product or service, or have demonstrated exceptional commitment to engineering and/or technology through their academic or professional development.	26 May 2017	http://conferences.theiet.org/achievement/awards/medals/sargeant.cfm

Annual	Royal Statistical Society	Statistical excellence in early career writing	The Statistical Excellence Award for Early Career Writing recognises the ability of early career statisticians to tell data-driven stories in an entertaining and thought-provoking way. "Early career" means students or anyone within the first 10 years of their statistical career – whether studying, recently graduated or already working.	29 May 2017	http://www.rss.org.uk/RSS/About/Recognising_Statistical_Excellence/Early_career_writing_wards/RSS/About_the_RSS/Recognising_statistical_excellence_sub/Statistical_excellence_in_early_career_writing.aspx?hkey=b7851495-714f-4899-a9d5-c4d135e0f4d5
Annual	SPIE	Gold Medal of the Society	The highest honor SPIE bestows. In recognition of outstanding accomplishments in optics, electro-optics or photographic technologies or applications. An honorarium of $10,000	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/gold-medal-of-the-society
Annual	SPIE	Britton Chance Biomedical Optics Award	Outstanding lifetime contributions to the field of biomedical optics through the development of innovative, high impact technologies. The award particularly honors pioneering contributions to optical methods and devices that have facilitated advancements in biology or medicine. Honorarium of $2,000 presented annually	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/britton-chance-biomedical-optics-award
Annual	SPIE	Biophotonics Technology Innovator Award	For extraordinary achievements in biophotonics technology development that show strong promise or potential impact in Biology, Medicine, and Biomedical Optics. The award targets achievements that span disciplines and may include elements of basic research, technology development, and clinical translation. Honorarium of $2,000 presented annually.	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/biophotonics-technology-innovator-award
Annual	SPIE	A. E. Conrady Award	In recognition of exceptional contributions in design, construction, and testing of optical and illumination systems and instrumentation. The recognition of this award is based on developments of new equipment, techniques, and applications for designing, testing, analyzing, and/or evaluating optical and illumination systems, components, and theories. Honorarium $2,000, sponsored by Synopsys Inc.	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/ae-conrady-award
Annual	SPIE	Harold E Edgerton Award	For outstanding contributions to optical or photonic techniques in the application and understanding of high speed physical phenomena. The development of new technologies and the new application of existing technologies shall be considered in the determination of the award. Honorarium $2,000.	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/harold-e-edgerton-award
Annual	SPIE	Dennis Gabor Award	In recognition of outstanding accomplishments in diffractive wavefront technologies, especially those which further the development of holography and metrology applications. Honorarium $2,000	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/dennis-gabor
Annual	SPIE	George W Goddard Award	In recognition of exceptional achievement in optical or photonic technology or instrumentation for earth or planetary or astronomical science, reconnaissance or surveillance from airborne or space platforms. The award is for the invention and development of a new process or technique, technology, instrumentation, or system. Honorarium $2,000.	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/george-w-goddard-award
Annual	SPIE	G G Stokes Award	Given annually for exceptional contribution to the field of optical polarization. The award may be presented for a specific achievement, development, or invention of significant importance to optical science and society, or may be given for lifetime achievement. Honorarium $2,000.	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/gg-stokes-award
Annual	SPIE	Chandra S Vikram Award in Optical Metrology	Given annually for exceptional contribution to the field of optical metrology. The award may be presented for a specific achievement, development, or invention of significant importance to optical metrology, or may be given for lifetime achievement. Honorarium $2,000.	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/chandra-s-vikram-award-in-optical-metrology
Annual	SPIE	Frits Zernike Award for Microlithography	Given annually for outstanding accomplishments in microlithographic technology, especially those furthering the development of semiconductor lithographic imaging solutions. Honorarium $2,000.	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/frits-zernike-award-for-microlithography
Annual	SPIE	Early Career Achievement Award - Academic	Presented in recognition of significant and innovative technical contributions in the engineering or scientific fields of relevance to SPIE. Two awards are available for presentation each year recognizing excellence in the areas of 1) academic and 2) industry/government. Nominations must identify the category for which the nominee is to be considered on the submission form. Honorarium $2,000.	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/early-career-achievement-award--academic
Annual	SPIE	SPIE Technology Achievement Award	Given annually to recognize outstanding technical accomplishment in optics, electro-optics, photonic engineering, or imaging. The recipient(s) shall have contributed significantly to the advancement of one or more of these areas with specific demonstration(s) or application(s). Honorarium $2,000.	01 June 2017	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/spie-technology-achievement-award
Annual	American Physical Society	APS Medal for Exceptional Achievement in Research	Established to recognize contributions of the highest level that advance our knowledge and understanding of the physical universe in all its facets. It is intended to celebrate scientific inquiry and the pursuit of knowledge. The Medal carries with it prize of $50,000, a certificate citing the contribution made by the recipient, an allowance for travel to the APS Medal Ceremony in Washington D.C. January 25, 2017 and an invited session at an APS March or April Meeting.	01 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/apsmedal.cfm
Annual	Boehringer Ingelheim Fonds	Heinrich Wieland Prize	The international Heinrich Wieland Prize honours distinguished scientists for their outstanding research on biologically active molecules and systems in the fields of chemistry, biochemistry, and physiology as well as their clinical importance. The prize is endowed with 100,000 euros.	01 June 2017	http://www.heinrich-wieland-prize.de/heinrich-wieland-prize.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Medal of Honor	The IEEE Medal of Honor, established in 1917, is the highest IEEE award. It is presented when a candidate is identified as having made a particular contribution that forms a clearly exceptional addition to the science and technology of concern to IEEE. Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: substantial significance of achievement, originality, impact on society, impact on the profession, publications, and patents relating to the achievement. The quality of the nomination is also considered. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, a bronze replica, a certificate, and honorarium. In a given year, if the Medal of Honor Recipient is not an IEEE member, that recipient will be automatically recommended to the IEEE Board of Directors for IEEE Honorary Membership.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/medalofhonor.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Medal for Environmental and Safety Technologies	Scope: For outstanding accomplishments in the application of technology in the fields of interest of IEEE that improve the environment and/or public safety. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: public benefits of the contribution; degree in improvement in important performance metrics; innovative design, development, or application engineering; favorable influence on the contribution on technical professions; and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, bronze replica, certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/envsaf.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Richard W. Hamming Medal	Scope: For exceptional contributions to information sciences, systems, and technology. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: originality, breadth, impact on technology, patents/publications, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, a bronze replica, a certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/hamming.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Medal for Innovations in Healthcare Technology	Scope: For exceptional contributions to technologies and applications benefitting healthcare, medicine, and the health sciences. Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: impact on the profession and/or society; succession of significant technical or other contributions; leadership in accomplishing worthwhile goal(s); previous honors; other achievements as evidenced by publications or patents or other evidence; and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, bronze replica, certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/healthcare.html

Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Jack S. Kilby Signal Processing Medal	Scope: For outstanding achievements in signal processing. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: subject areas such as algorithms, architecture, and applications; theoretical, technological, or commercial achievements; patents/publications/products; generally recognized major technological advancement in the field of signal processing; quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, a bronze replica, a certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/kilby.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE/RSE James Clerk Maxwell Medal	Scope: For groundbreaking contributions that have had an exceptional impact on the development of electronics and electrical engineering, or related fields. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: ground-breaking contributions with exceptional impact on the profession and the betterment of society, and significant technical and other achievements as evidenced by publications, patents, significant products, and other evidence, and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, bronze replica, certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/maxwell.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE James H. Mulligan, Jr. Education Medal	Scope: For a career of outstanding contributions to education in the fields of interest of IEEE. Basis for Judging: Excellence in teaching and ability to inspire students; leadership in electrical engineering education through publication of course materials and writings on engineering education; leadership in the development of programs in curricula or teaching methodology; contributions to the engineering profession through research, engineering achievements, and technical papers; participating in the education activities of professional societies; and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, a bronze replica, a certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/education.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Jun-ichi Nishizawa Medal	Scope: For outstanding contributions to material and device science and technology, including practical application. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: quality of the technical achievement, enhancement of technology, impact on the relevant technical community, impact on the profession and benefit to the society, publisher and patents, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, a bronze replica, a certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/nishizawa.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Robert N. Noyce Medal	Description: For exceptional contributions to the microelectronics industry. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: field leadership, contribution, originality, breadth, inventive value, publications, other achievements, society activities, honors, duration, and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, a bronze replica, a certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/noyce.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Dennis J. Picard Medal for Radar Technologies and Applications	Scope: For outstanding accomplishments in advancing the fields of radar technologies and their applications. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: field leadership, contribution, originality, breadth, inventive value, publications, other achievements, society activities, honors, sustained impact, and quality of nomination.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/picard.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Medal in Power Engineering	Scope: For outstanding contributions to the technology associated with the generation, transmission, distribution, application, and utilization of electric power for the betterment of society. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: impact on the profession and the betterment of society; succession of significant technical or other contributions; leadership in accomplishing worthwhile goal(s); previous honors; other achievements as evidenced by publications, patents, or other evidence; and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, bronze replica, certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/poweng.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Simon Ramo Medal	Scope: For exceptional achievement in systems engineering and systems science. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: significance of achievement in systems engineering and systems science or technical leadership in a major innovative engineering project within the scope of the IEEE, originality, breadth, impact on technology, patents/publications, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, bronze replica, certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/ramo.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE John von Neumann Medal	Scope: For outstanding achievements in computer-related science and technology. Basis for Judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: truly outstanding contributions in computer hardware, software, or systems art; cited work in the form of publications, patents, products, or simply general recognition by the profession that the individual cited is the agreed originator of the advance; and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a gold medal, bronze replica, certificate, and honorarium.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/medals/vonneumann.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Honorary Membership	Scope: To individuals not members of the IEEE, who have rendered meritorious service to humanity in IEEE's designated fields of interest Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: significance of achievement; originality; impact on society; impact on the profession, publications, and patents relating to the achievement; and quality of nomination. Prize: Honorary Members shall be entitled to all rights and privileges of the IEEE, except the right to hold office therein. Recipients shall receive a certificate. Honorary Member pin, and a crystal sculpture.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/recognitions/honorarvmem.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Corporate Innovation Award	Scope: For an outstanding innovation by an organization in an IEEE field of interest Eligibility: The recipient must be a corporate, governmental, or academic entity working within the fields of interest to IEEE. An employee of a particular entity may nominate his or her organization for the IEEE Corporate Innovation Award. Prize: The award consists of a certificate and crystal sculpture.	15 June 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/recognitions/corpinnov.html
Annual	American Physical Society	Aneesur Rahman Prize for Computational Physics	To recognize and encourage outstanding achievement in computational physics research. The prize consists of $10,000, an allowance for travel to the meeting of the Society at which the prize is awarded and at which the recipient will deliver the Rahman Lecture, and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/rahman.cfm
Biennial	American Physical Society	Frank Isakson Prize for Optical Effects in Solids	To recognize outstanding optical research that leads to breakthroughs in the condensed matter sciences. The prize consists of $5,000, an allowance for travel to the meeting of the Society at which the prize is being presented and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/isakson.cfm
Annual	American Physical Society	Arthur L. Schawlow Prize in Laser Science	To recognize outstanding contributions to basic research which uses lasers to advance our knowledge of the fundamental physical properties of materials and their interaction with light. Some examples of relevant areas of research are: nonlinear optics, ultrafast phenomena, laser spectroscopy, squeezed states, quantum optics, multiphoton physics, laser cooling and trapping, physics of lasers, particle acceleration by lasers, and short wavelength lasers. The prize consists of $10,000 plus an allowance for travel to the meeting at which the prize is awarded and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/schawlow.cfm
Annual	American Physical Society	George E Pake Prize	To recognize and encourage outstanding work by physicists combining original research accomplishments with leadership in the management of research or development in industry. The prize consists of $5,000, an allowance for travel to the meeting at which the prize is to be awarded, and a certificate recognizing the contribution of the recipient.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/pake.cfm

Annual	American Physical Society	Dannie Heineman Prize for Mathematical Physics	To recognize outstanding publications in the field of mathematical physics. The prize consists of $10,000 and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient plus travel expenses to attend the meeting at which the prize is bestowed.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/heineman.cfm
Biennial	American Physical Society	Davison-Germer Prize in Atomic or Surface Physics	To recognize and encourage outstanding work in atomic physics or surface physics. The Prize consists of $5,000 and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient or recipients.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/davison-germer.cfm
Annual	American Physical Society	Earle K. Plyler Prize for Molecular Spectroscopy & Dynamics	To recognize and encourage notable contributions to the field of molecular spectroscopy and dynamics. The prize consists of $10,000, an allowance for travel expenses, up to $1000, to attend the meeting at which the prize is to be presented and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient. The recipient is invited to contribute a perspective article to the Journal of Chemical Physics.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/plyler.cfm
Annual	American Physical Society	James C McGroddy Prize for New Materials	To recognize and encourage outstanding achievement in the science and application of new materials. This shall include the discovery of new classes of materials, the observation of novel phenomena in known materials leading to both fundamentally new applications and scientific insights, and shall also include theoretical and experimental work contributing significantly to the understanding of such phenomena. The prize consists of $10,000 plus a certificate citing the contribution of the recipient and an allowance for travel to the meeting of the Society at which the award is presented.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/mcgroddy.cfm
Annual	American Physical Society	Lars Onsager Prize	To recognize outstanding research in theoretical statistical physics including the quantum fluids. The prize consists of $10,000 as well as a certificate citing the contribution made by the recipient	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/onsager.cfm
Annual	American Physical Society	Max Delbruck Prize in Biological Physics	To recognize and encourage outstanding achievement in biological physics research. The prize consists of $10,000, an allowance for travel to attend the meeting at which the prize is awarded, and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient or recipients.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/delbruck.cfm
Annual	American Physical Society	Oliver E Buckley Condensed Matter Prize	To recognize and encourage outstanding theoretical or experimental contributions to condensed matter physics. The prize consists of $20,000 and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient or recipients.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/buckley.cfm
Biennial	American Physical Society	Francis M Pipkin Award	To honor exceptional research accomplishments by a young scientist in the interdisciplinary area of precision measurement and fundamental constants and to encourage the wide dissemination of the results of that research. The award is given biennially every odd-number year and consists of $2,000 plus support of travel expenses to the APS Meeting at which the award is conferred.	30 June 2017	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/awards/pipkin.cfm
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	IEEE Award for Distinguished Ethical Practices	The IEEE Award for Distinguished Ethical Practices recognizes an IEEE member or an organization employing IEEE members for: (a) exemplary ethical behavior/practices and/or (b) persuasive advocacy or promotion of ethical behavior/practices.	01 July 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/ethics/ethics_award.html
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Ken Kennedy Award	It recognizes outstanding contributions to programmability or productivity in high-performance computing, together with significant community service or mentoring contributions. The award is presented annually at a conference of the awardee's choice and is accompanied by a prize of $5,000	01 July 2017	http://awards.acm.org/kennedy/nominations.cfm
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	IET Innovation Awards	The Innovation Awards are open to industrial and academic teams and enterprising individuals, anywhere in the world. Each innovation can be entered in up to three categories, although you can enter as many different innovations as you wish. You don't have to be an IET member. Categories: Communications; Cyber Security; Emerging Technology Design; Energy; Horizontal Innovation; Information Technology; Intelligent Systems; Manufacturing Technology; Model-Based Engineering; Navigation and Surveillance Communications; Power; Start-up; Sustainability; Transport.	07 July 2017	http://www.theiet.org/membership/awards/about.cfm
Annual	Institute of Mathematics and its Applications	Catherine Richards Prize	This prize competition is open to Early Career Mathematicians (ECMs), with a prize of £250. We invite articles on any mathematical topic, including pure, applied, teaching, case studies, etc. between 1,000–2,000 words. Winner(s) will be invited to receive their certificates at the ECM Autumn Conference	31 July 2017	http://www.ima.org.uk/about_us/awards_and_medals/catherine_richards_prize.cfm.html
Annual	Shaw Prize (via London Mathematical Society website)	Shaw Prize	Established under the auspices of Mr Run Run Shaw in November 2002, the Prize honours individuals, regardless of race, nationality, gender and religious belief, who have recently achieved significant breakthrough in academic and scientific research or applications and whose work has resulted in a positive and profound impact on mankind. The Shaw Prize consists of three annual prizes: Astronomy, Life Science and Medicine, and Mathematical Sciences, each bearing a monetary award of one million two hundred thousand US dollars.	15 September 2017	http://www.shawprize.org/en/
Annual	European Mathematical Society	EMS Lecturer	Nomination for The Shaw Prize 2017 began in mid September 2016 and ended on 30 November 2016. Every year, the EMS appoints an EMS Lecturer. This is an honorary post, bestowed on an internationally renowned researcher, affiliated to an European institution. An EMS Lecturer is asked to deliver several lectures in various European places; one of the lectures is tied to an international conference in Europe. Costs of EMS Lecturers are supported by the EMS.	30 September 2017	http://www.euro-math-soc.eu/form/submit-proposal-ems-lecturer
Annual	European Mathematical Society	EMS Distinguished Speaker	An EMS Distinguished Speaker is a prestigious appointment, awarded by the EMS to an internationally renowned researcher. An EMS Distinguished Speaker is asked to deliver a plenary lecture at a large regional or international European conference. Costs of EMS Distinguished Speakers are supported by the EMS	30 September 2017	http://www.euro-math-soc.eu/form/submit-proposal-ems-distinguished-speaker
Biennial (even years)	Royal Statistical Society	Guy Medal (Gold)	The Guy Medal in Gold is awarded to a Fellow of the Society judged to have merited a signal mark of distinction by reason of innovative contributions to the theory or application of statistics. Next award 2018.	06 October 2017	http://www.rss.org.uk/RSS/About/Recognising_Statistical_Excellence/Honours/RSS/About_the_RSS/Recognising_statistical_excellence_sub/Honours.aspx?hkey=8fb7067d-9a1f-44c4-b1e0-7433f7c8b9a9
Annual	Royal Statistical Society	Guy Medal (Silver and Bronze)	The Guy Medal in Silver is awarded to a Fellow of the Society in respect of a paper or papers of special merit communicated to the Society at its ordinary meetings. Other contributions to statistics may also be taken into account. The Guy Medal in Bronze is awarded to a Fellow of the Society in respect of excellent work presented to any conference or meeting run by the Society, or published in any of the Society's journals. Eligible candidates must be within fifteen years of the award of their first degree. Other contributions to statistics may be taken into account.	06 October 2017	http://www.rss.org.uk/RSS/About/Recognising_Statistical_Excellence/Honours/RSS/About_the_RSS/Recognising_statistical_excellence_sub/Honours.aspx?hkey=8fb7067d-9a1f-44c4-b1e0-7433f7c8b9a9

Every few months	Anatomical Society	Fellowship of the Anatomical Society	Election to Fellowship of the Anatomical Society is a public recognition of achievement in research, education and service in the anatomical sciences. It is open to members of the Society (Full) in good standing for at least seven years and those elected are entitled to use the designation 'FAS' after their names.	09 November 2017	http://www.anatsoc.org.uk/funding-and-awards/grants-and-prizes/fellowship-of-the-anatomical-society
Every few months	Anatomical Society	The Symington Bequest	The Trustees of the Symington Bequest Fund can make grants to Society Members towards costs associated with anatomic research. These may be for specific purposes - for example the setting up of the Human Embryo Database developed out of initial grants from the Symington Fund - or more commonly for a contribution to the costs associated with presenting and participating in scientific meetings.	09 November 2017	http://www.anatsoc.org.uk/funding-and-awards/grants-and-prizes/the-symington-bequest/the-symington-bequest
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Turing Award	The A.M. Turing Award, the ACM's most prestigious technical award, is given for major contributions of lasting importance to computing. The A.M. Turing Award, sometimes referred to as the "Nobel Prize" of Computing, was named in honor of Alan Mathison Turing (1912–1954), a British mathematician and computer scientist. The award is presented each June at the ACM Awards Banquet and is accompanied by a prize of $1,000,000 plus travel expenses to the banquet. Financial support for the award is provided by Google Inc.	30 November 2017	http://amturing.acm.org/call_for_nominations.cfm
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Paris Kanellakis Theory and Practice Award	The Paris Kanellakis Theory and Practice Award honors specific theoretical accomplishments that have had a significant and demonstrable effect on the practice of computing. The award is presented each June at the ACM Awards Banquet and is accompanied by a prize of $10,000 plus travel expenses to the banquet.	30 November 2017	http://awards.acm.org/kanellakis/nominations.cfm
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Allen Newell award	The ACM – AAAI Allen Newell award recognizes career contributions that have breadth within computer science – that is, contributions across multiple distinct sub-disciplines – or that bridge computer science and other disciplines. Key factors in evaluating nominations thus include both the quality of the contributions and their breadth across computer science – with contributions to artificial intelligence being of particular note – plus the significance of the bridges created to other disciplines.	30 November 2017	http://awards.acm.org/newell/nominations.cfm
Biennial (even years)	Association for Computing Machinery	Policy Award	The ACM Policy Award honors the contributions of an individual, or a small group, who has had a significant impact on the formation or execution of public policy related to computing. It may recognize establishment of an innovative educational or advisory program in policy, the development of technology policy organizations or resources, or other notable policy activities affecting the computing community and/or the general public. The biennial award is presented at the June ACM Awards Banquet in even-numbered years. It is accompanied by a prize of $10,000 plus travel expenses to the banquet.	30 November 2017	http://awards.acm.org/policy/nominations.cfm
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Software System Award	The Software System Award recognizes an institution or individual(s) for developing a software system that has had a lasting influence on computing, as reflected in contributions to concepts, commercial acceptance, or both. The award is presented each June at the ACM Awards Banquet and is accompanied by a prize of $35,000 plus travel expenses to the banquet. Financial support for the award is provided by IBM.	30 November 2017	http://awards.acm.org/software_system/nominations.cfm
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Athena Lecturer Award	The ACM Athena Lecturer Award celebrates women researchers who have made fundamental contributions to Computer Science. Each year ACM honors a preeminent woman computer scientist as the Athena Lecturer. The Athena Lecturer gives a one-hour invited talk at a major ACM conference of her choice. A video of the talk is made available on the ACM website. The award carries a cash prize of $25,000 and includes travel expenses to the conference. Financial support for the Athena Lecturer Award is provided by Google.	30 November 2017	http://awards.acm.org/athena/nominations.cfm
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS) Fellows	The EATCS Fellows Program is established by the Association to recognize outstanding EATCS Members for their scientific achievements in the field of Theoretical Computer Science. The Fellow status is conferred by the EATCS Fellows-Selection Committee upon a person having a track record of intellectual and organizational leadership within the EATCS community. Fellows are expected to be "model citizens" of the TCS community, helping to develop the standing of TCS beyond the frontiers of the community.	31 December 2017	http://eatcs.org/index.php/eatcs-fellows

Biennial	American Physical Society	George E Valley Jnr Prize	To recognize one individual in the early stages of his or her career for an outstanding scientific contribution to physics that is deemed to have significant potential for a dramatic impact on the field. The prize consists of $20,000 and a certificate citing the contribution made by the recipient. It shall be awarded to one individual who has received his/her PhD no earlier than 5 years before April 1 of the year of the nomination deadline.	29 June 2018	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/valley.cfm
Biennial	American Physical Society	Herbert P Broida Prize	To recognize and enhance outstanding experimental advancements in the fields of atomic and molecular spectroscopy or chemical physics. The prize consists of $5,000, an allowance for travel to the award ceremony, and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient. The first prize was awarded in 1980 and every odd numbered year thereafter.	29 June 2018	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/broida.cfm
Biennial	American Physical Society	I I Rabi Prize in Atomic, Molecular, and Optical Physics	To recognize and encourage outstanding research in Atomic, Molecular and Optical Physics by investigators who have held a Ph. D. for 10 years or less. The prize consists of $10,000 and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient. An allowance will be provided for travel expenses of the recipient to the Society meeting at which the prize is presented. It is awarded in odd-numbered years.	29 June 2018	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/rabi.cfm
Biennial	American Physical Society	Prize for the Industrial Applications of Physics	Awarded to an individual, or individuals, for applications of physics in an industrial setting. The purpose of the prize is to recognize excellence in the industrial application of physics, and thereby to publicize the value of physics in industry, to encourage physics research in industry, and to enhance students' awareness of and interest in the role of physics in commercial product development. The Prize consists of $10,000 and a certificate citing the contribution for which the Prize was awarded. In addition, an allowance is made for the expenses incurred by the recipient(s) to attend the APS meeting at which the Prize is presented. The APS Prize will be presented in odd-numbered years, with the first Prize awarded in 2009.	29 June 2018	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/industrial.cfm
Biennial	American Physical Society	Irving Langmuir Prize in Chemical Physics	To recognize and encourage outstanding interdisciplinary research in chemistry and physics, in the spirit of Irving Langmuir. This biennial prize consists of $10,000 and a certificate citing the contributions made by the recipient. In even-numbered years, the American Chemical Society selects the prize recipient and presents the prize. In odd-numbered years, the American Physical Society selects the prize recipient and presents the prize. An allowance is provided for travel expenses of the recipient to the meeting of the Society at which the prize is to be bestowed.	29 June 2018	http://www.aps.org/programs/honors/prizes/langmuir.cfm
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Prize in Computational Science & Engineering	The SIAM/ACM Prize in Computational Science & Engineering is awarded every other year by the Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics (SIAM) and the Association of Computing Machinery (ACM) in the area of computational science in recognition of outstanding contributions to the development and use of mathematical and computational tools and methods for the solution of science and engineering problems. The award is presented in February or March of each year at the SIAM Conference on Computational Science and Engineering and is accompanied by a prize of $5,000 plus travel to attend the award ceremony.	31 July 2018	http://awards.acm.org/computational_science/nominations.cfm
Quadrennial	European Mathematical Society (via Ten EMS Prizes London Mathematical Society website)		Nominations can be made by anyone, including members of the Prize Committee and candidates themselves.	31 October 2019	http://www.euro-math-soc.eu/ems-prizes
Biennial (odd years)	Institute of Mathematics and its Applications	Mathematical Medicine & Biology: A Journal Of The IMA Best Paper Prize	To celebrate the Journal's 30th year of publication, we are proud to announce a best paper prize, recognising the most outstanding research published in the Journal. The prize will be £1000 and will be awarded every two years at the Society of Mathematical Biology annual conference.	?	http://www.ima.org.uk/about_us/awards_and_medals.cfm.html
Biennial (even years)	Institute of Physics	Fernand Holweck Medal and Prize	International bilateral awards The award will be made for distinguished work in any aspect of physics that is ongoing or has been carried out within the 10 years preceding the award. In selecting the recipient of the award, the primarily experimental interest of Holweck will be borne in mind. The award is made in alternate years by the Councils of one of the two societies to a physicist selected from a list of nominees submitted by the other.	?	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/bilateral/holweck/page_38477.html
Biennial (odd years)	Institute of Physics	Harrie Massey Medal and Prize	International bilateral awards The award shall be made for contributions to physics or its applications. The Institute of Physics selects the winner from a list of nominees submitted by the Australian Institute of Physics. Normally the recipient will have, or have had, association with Australia or physics in Australia. The medal shall be silver and be accompanied by a certificate.	?	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/bilateral/massey/page_38485.html
Biennial (even years)	Institute of Physics	Giuseppe Occhialini Medal and Prize	International bilateral awards The award shall be made for distinguished work carried out within the 10 years preceding the award. The award is to be made to physicists in alternating years who work in Italy (even dated years) or the UK or Ireland (odd dated years). The medal will be silver and accompanied by a prize of £3000. The award is made alternately by the Councils of one of the two societies to a physicist selected from a list of nominees submitted by the other.	?	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/bilateral/occhialini/page_38492.html
Triennial	American Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	Delbert Ray Fulkerson Prize	The Fulkerson Prize is awarded for outstanding papers in the area of discrete mathematics. This award is sponsored jointly by the Mathematical Optimization Society (formerly the Mathematical Programming Society) and the American Mathematical Society (AMS). Up to three awards of US$1500 are presented at each (triennial) International Symposium of the MPS. Next prize July 2018.	?	http://www.ams.org/profession/prizes-awards/ams-prizes/fulkerson-prize
Annual	Regional Science Association International	Moss Madden Memorial Medal	The Regional Science Association British and Irish section awards, on an annual basis, the Moss Madden Memorial Medal to the member(s) of the Section who author the best article on regional science published in a particular calendar year. Unless if this is still being awarded?	?	http://www.rsai-bis.org/moss-madden-memorial-medal.html
Annual	Regional Science Association International	Research Student / Early Career Award	The British and Irish Section of the Regional Science Association International (RSaIBIS) established in 2003 three Student Awards in Regional Science. Essays in any area of Regional Science (spatial economics, quantitative economic geography)	?	http://www.rsai-bis.org/student-and-early-career-awards.html
Biennial (odd years)	Institute of Physics	Max Born Medal and Prize	International bilateral awards The award will be made for outstanding contributions to physics. The award is made in even-dated years to a physicist based in Germany and presented in the UK or Ireland, and in odd-dated years to a physicist based in the UK or Ireland and presented in Germany. The award consists of a silver medal and is accompanied by a prize of £3000 and a certificate. The award is made alternately by the Councils of one of the two societies to a physicist selected from a list of nominees submitted by the other.	? Awarded by institute?	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/bilateral/born/page_38469.html

Annual	The Norwegian Academy of Science and Letters (via London Mathematical Society website)	Abel Prize	The prize is meant to recognize contributions of extraordinary depth and influence to the mathematical sciences. Such work may have resolved fundamental problems, created powerful new techniques, introduced unifying principles or opened up major new fields of research. The intent is to award prizes over the course of time in a broad range of fields within the mathematical sciences. The right to nominate is open to anyone. Nominations are confidential and a nomination should not be made known to the nominee. Self-nominations are not acceptable. The prize can be awarded to a single person or shared for closely related fundamental contributions.	15th September 2017	http://www.abelprize.no/c53676/artikkel/vis.html?tid=53705
Biennial (even years)?	International Mathematical Union (IMU) (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Gauss Prize	The Gauss Prize, awarded for the first time in August 2006, has been created to help the rest of the world realize this fundamental fact. The prize is to honor scientists whose mathematical research has had an impact outside mathematics – either in technology, in business, or simply in people's everyday lives. The Gauss Prize is awarded jointly by the Deutsche Mathematiker-Vereinigung (DMV = German Mathematical Union) and the International Mathematical Union (IMU), and administered by the DMV. The prize consists of a medal and a monetary award. Nominations should ideally be sent by December 31, 2016 to the Prize Committee Chairs. All prize committees are free to consider nominations that are made after the deadline has passed.	31/12/2016?	http://www.mathunion.org/general/prizes/gauss/details/
Quadrennial	International Mathematical Union (IMU) (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Chern Medal	The Chern Medal is awarded every four years on the occasion of the International Congress of Mathematicians to an individual whose accomplishments warrant the highest level of recognition for outstanding achievements in the field of mathematics. All living, natural persons, regardless of age or vocation, shall be eligible for the Medal. Next awarded in 2018.	31/12/2016?	http://www.mathunion.org/general/prizes/chern/details/
Quadrennial	International Mathematical Union (IMU) (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Fields Medal	The Fields Medal is awarded every four years on the occasion of the International Congress of Mathematicians to recognize outstanding mathematical achievement for existing work and for the promise of future achievement. The 2010 cash value of each Fields Medal is 15,000 Can$.	31/12/2016?	http://www.mathunion.org/general/prizes/fields/details/
Annual	London Mathematical Society	Cecil King Travel Scholarship	The London Mathematical Society annually awards a £5000 Cecil King Travel Scholarship in Mathematics, to a young mathematician of outstanding promise. The Scholarship is awarded to support a period of study or research abroad, typically for a period of three months.	31st March 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/cecil-king-travel-scholarship
Annual?	European Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	Felix Klein Prize	Applicants must be nationals of the UK or the Republic of Ireland, either registered for or having completed a doctoral degree within 12 months of the closing date In order to encourage such solutions and to reward exceptional research in the area of applied mathematics. The Prize is to be awarded to a young scientist or a small group of young scientists (normally under the age of 38) for using sophisticated methods to give an outstanding solution, which meets with the complete satisfaction of industry, to a concrete and difficult industrial problem. The award comprises a certificate including the citation and a cash prize of 5000€. Nominations can be made by anyone, including members of the Prize Committee and candidates themselves	Assume 31/12/2017?	http://www.euro-math-soc.eu/felix-klein-prize
Annual?	European Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	Otto Neugebauer Prize	The Prize is to be awarded for highly original and influential work in the field of history of mathematics that enhances our understanding of either the development of mathematics or a particular mathematical subject in any period and in any geographical region. The prize may be shared by two or more researchers if the work justifying it is the fruit of collaboration between them. Nominations are confidential; a nomination should not be made known to the nominee(s). The award comprises a certificate including the citation and a cash prize of 5000€.	Assume 31/12/2017?	http://www.euro-math-soc.eu/otto-neugebauer-prize
Dependant on presi	Institute of Physics	The President's medal	The medal will be awarded on the recommendation of the President and agreed by Council. It can be given to both physicists and non-physicists who have provided meritorious services in various fields of endeavour which were of benefit to physics in general and the Institute in particular. The award will be given at the rate of one or two per presidency.	Dependant on presidency	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/president/page_38412.html
Biennial (odd years)	Anatomical Society	The Anatomical Society Prize (for distinguished morphological research)	For Member or Non-Member. Two yearly intervals, in uneven years, Medal (awarded in odd years (2017, 2019, 2021...etc)	For further information contact the Executive Administrator at: headoffice@anatsoc.org.uk	http://www.anatsoc.org.uk/funding-and-awards/grants-and-prizes/anatomical-society-prize---latest-recipient/anatomical-society-prize
Biennial (even years)	Anatomical Society	Symington Memorial Prize (for research programme)	Originally established in 1920 by the Queen's University of Belfast in commemoration of Professor Johnson Symington. The Prize is awarded by the Academic Council of Queen's University on the recommendation of the Council of Anatomical Society, which will seek the advice of its Education Committee. The Prize shall be awarded for contributions to the advancement of Anatomy, including education in Anatomy, by a Member of the Anatomical Society not of professional status. Awarded in even years, 2018, 2020 etc.	For further information, contact the Executive Administrator at: headoffice@anatsoc.org.uk	http://www.anatsoc.org.uk/funding-and-awards/grants-and-prizes/the-symington-memorial-prize
Annual	British Computer Society	Distinguished dissertations - best British PhD/DPHil dissertations in computer science.	The Conference of Professors and Heads of Computing (CPHC), in conjunction with BCS and the BCS Academy of Computing annually selects for publication the best British PhD/DPHil dissertations in computer science and publishes the winning dissertation and runner up submission on the BCS website	Later in 2017	http://academy.bcs.org/content/distinguished-dissertations
Biennial (even years)	London Mathematical Society	Christopher Zeeman Medal	To be announced when nominations open	Likely 28/02/2018	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/ima-lms-prizes
Annual	Genetics Society	Sir Kenneth Mather Memorial Prize	The Sir Kenneth Mather Memorial Prize of £150 rewards a BSc, MSc or PhD student of any UK University or Research Institution who has shown outstanding performance in the area of quantitative or population genetic	Likely by end Nov 17	http://www.genetics.org.uk/Prizes/SirKennethMatherMemorialPrize.aspx
Annual	Geological Society of London	Wollaston Medal	The Wollaston medal is the highest award given by the Society. This medal is normally given to geologists who have had a significant influence by means of a substantial body of excellent research in either or both 'pure' and 'applied' aspects of the science.	Likely by end Sept 17	http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/awards
Annual	Geological Society of London	Lyell Medal	The Lyell Medal is normally given to people who have made a significant contribution to the science by means of a substantial body of research and for contributions to 'soft' rock studies	Likely by end Sept 17	http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/awards
Annual	Geological Society of London	Murchison Medal	The Murchison Medal is normally given to people who have made a significant contribution to the science by means of a substantial body of research and for contributions to 'hard' rock studies	Likely by end Sept 17	http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/awards
Annual	Geological Society of London	William Smith Medal	The medal is awarded for excellence in contributions to applied and economic aspects of geoscience.	Likely by end Sept 17	http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/awards
Annual	Geological Society of London	The Major John Sacheverell A'Deane Coke and Major Edward D'Ewes Fitzgerald Coke Medals	The Awards will be made to scientists for their contributions to Geology ... the field may be extended to include scientists whose training and interests are outside the main fields of Geology, but whose contributions are of great significance to our science.	Likely by end Sept 17	http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/awards

Triennial	Geological Society of London	The Prestwich Medal	This Medal is awarded every three years to persons 'who shall have done well for the advancement of the science of geology'.	Likely by end Sept 17	http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/awards
Annual	Geological Society of London	The Bigsby Medal	Founded by John Jeremiah Bigsby (1792 - 1881), this medal is awarded biennially 'as an acknowledgement of eminent services in any department of Geology, irrespective of the receivers' country; but (s)he must have done no more than 25 years full time equivalent research, thus probably not too old for further work, and not too young to have done much'.	Likely by end Sept 17	http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/awards
Annual	Geological Society of London	The Distinguished Service Award	This Award is made annually to an individual/s who has made a significant contribution to geoscience and the geoscience community by virtue of their professional, administrative, organisational or promotional activities	Likely by end Sept 17	http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/awards
Annual	Geological Society of London	The Wollaston, Lyell and Murchison Funds	The Wollaston, Lyell and Murchison Funds are awarded to contributors to the Earth Sciences on the basis of noteworthy published research. The William Smith Fund is awarded for excellence in contributions to applied and economic aspects of geoscience.	Likely by end Sept 17	http://www.geolsoc.org.uk/awards
Biennial (odd years)	Institute of Mathematics and its Applications	IMA Lighthill-Thwaites Prize	The award will be based on a submitted piece of work that describes an aspect of the candidate's original research and is suitable for presentation at the BAMC.	Likely December 18	http://www.ima.org.uk/about_us/awards_and_medals/ima_lighthill-thwaites_prize.cfm.html
Annual	Institute and Faculty of Actuaries	Honorary Fellows	The Institute and Faculty of Actuaries annually seeks nominations from its membership of individuals who might be invited to put their name forward for election as an Honorary Fellow. The IFoA Honorary Fellows should be individuals who are seen to add value to the profession and have an active ongoing involvement with the IFoA.	Likely to be Dec 17	https://www.actuaries.org.uk/about-us/recognition-prizes-and-awards/honorary-fellows
Annual	Institute and Faculty of Actuaries	Gold and Finlaison Medals	The Gold Medal is awarded in honour of work which is of pre-eminent importance, either in originality, or content, or consequence, in the actuarial field. The Finlaison Medal is awarded in recognition of service to the actuarial profession in furtherance of one or more of the various objects set out in the Royal Charter of the Institute and Faculty of Actuaries.	Likely to be Nov 17	https://www.actuaries.org.uk/about-us/recognition-prizes-and-awards/gold-and-finlaison-medals
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	IET Premium (Best Paper) Awards	An individual Premium Award is available for the best paper published within the previous two years in each journal. Nominations are received by the journal's editors and editorial boards, with the winning paper decided by the individual journal's Editor-in-Chief. To view papers, visit www.ietdl.org/premium_awards	Must be published in journal to participate	http://www.theiet.org/membership/awards/about.cfm
Annual	Institution of Engineering and Technology	IET A F Harvey Engineering Research Prize	FOR AWARENESS ONLY: Individual applications are not allowed. One prize of £350,000 is awarded annually, honouring an exceptional individual researcher for their outstanding achievements and promising future research. The prize money supports further research led by the recipient, to contribute to further advances to the benefit of society. Selection process The IET A F Harvey Prize Committee identifies potential candidates from around the world. The Committee draws up a shortlist of candidates from whom additional information is requested for further detailed consideration.	N/A	http://www.theiet.org/membership/awards/about.cfm
N/A	Wolf Foundation (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Wolf Prize	The Wolf Prize was probably the closest equivalent of a "Nobel Prize in Mathematics", since the more prestigious Fields Medal was only awarded every four years to mathematicians under forty years old. International prize committees in each field, comprising renowned experts, select the Wolf Prize winners. Prize committees are appointed every year. Committee proceedings, minutes and recommendations are kept confidential, except for the recipients' prize rationale.	n/a	http://212.199.115.173/~wolf/index.php?dir=site&page=content&cs=3052
Annual	The Royal Society of Edinburgh (via London Mathematical Society website)	Senior Career Prizes Life Sciences: The RSE/Sir James Black Prize Physical, Engineering & Informatic Sciences: The RSE/Lord Kelvin Prize Arts, Humanities & Social Science: The RSE/Sir Walter Scott Prize Business, Public Service & Public Engagement: The RSE/Adam Smith Prize	Senior Prize-winners will receive a medal. They are required to deliver a lecture in Scotland and related travel and subsistence costs will be met. This award meets with the Society's strategic objective of increasing public understanding of science and the arts and humanities. The Senior Prize-winners are required to have a Scottish connection but can be based anywhere in the world. Senior Career Prizes are available in Life Sciences; Physical, Engineering and Informatic Sciences; Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences; Business, Public Service and Public Engagement. Annual	Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics (via London Mathematical Society website)	W.T. and Idalia Reid Prize in Mathematics	The W.T. and Idalia Reid Prize in Mathematics (hereinafter called "prize") is awarded for research in, or other contributions to, the broadly defined areas of differential equations and control theory. Each prize may be given either for a single notable achievement or a collection of such achievements. Last deadline Oct 2016 - awarded early 2017	Oct 2017?	http://www.siam.org/prizes/sponsored/reid.php
Biennial (odd years)	Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Ralph E. Kleinman prize	The Ralph E. Kleinman prize is awarded to one individual for outstanding research, or other contributions, that bridge the gap between mathematics and applications. Work that uses high-level mathematics and/or invents new mathematical tools to solve applied problems from engineering, science, and technology is particularly appropriate. The value of the work will be measured by the quality of the mathematics and its impact on the application. Each prize may be given either for a single notable achievement or for a collection of such achievements. Nominations are sought seven months prior to the awarding of the prize. Nominations will be solicited in SIAM publications and various relevant electronic newsletters. The prize will consist of a certificate, a cash award of approximately $5000 (with adjustments depending on the income of the prize fund) plus travel expenses to the SIAM meeting. The prize will be administered by SIAM and awarded every two years at the SIAM Annual Meeting. Closed for 2017 award	October 2018?	http://www.siam.org/prizes/sponsored/kleinman.php
Annual	British Society for Cell Biology	Women in Cell Biology Early Career Award Medal	To mark the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the BSCB we are pleased and excited to announce the establishment of a new prize, the BSCB Women in Cell Biology Early Career Award Medal. This will be an annual honour awarded to an outstanding female cell biologist who has started her own research group in the UK within the last 6 years, with allowances for legitimate career breaks. Applicants must also have published at least one senior author paper from their own laboratory. Note: candidates can be nominated at any time but must be nominated by at least one BSCB member, should provide a full CV and a short summary of the candidate's major contributions to cell biology.	Ongoing	http://bscb.org/competitions-awardsgrants/women-in-cell-biology-early-career-award-medal/

Annual	British Society for Cell Biology	Hooke Medal	The BSCB accepts nominations for the Hooke Medal at any time. Candidates must provide a full CV and have to be nominated by two BSCB members who should both provide a short summary of the candidate's major contributions to cell biology.	Ongoing	http://bscb.org/competitions-awardsgrants/hooke-medal/
Annual	British Society for Cell Biology	BSCB Young Cell Biologist of the Year	Ph.D. students who have not yet received their degree must be first author and presenter of a poster at the meeting in any area of cell biology. The student must be a BSCB member and registered at the BSCB Spring Meeting. In accepting the award the winner agrees to write a report on the ASCB meeting for the BSCB Newsletter.	Ongoing	http://bscb.org/competitions-awardsgrants/bscb-young-cell-biologist-of-the-year/
Annual	British Society for Cell Biology	BSCB Post-doc Poster of the Year	In recognition of the importance of post-doc researchers to the success of research teams, the BSCB awards a prize for the best poster presentation made by a post-doc at the BSCB Spring meeting	Ongoing	http://bscb.org/competitions-awardsgrants/bscb-post-doc-poster-of-the-year/
Biennial (even years)	Royal Society	Darwin Medal	The medal is awarded biennially (in even years) for work of acknowledged distinction in evolution, population biology, organismal biology and biological diversity	TBC	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/darwin-medal/
Annual	British Society for Developmental Biology	The Waddington Medal	The Waddington Medal, the only national award in developmental biology, is awarded for outstanding research performance as well as services to the subject community.	TBC	http://bsdb.org/awards/the-waddington-medal/
Annual	British Society for Developmental Biology	The Cheryll Tickle Medal	Awarded to a mid-career, female scientist for her outstanding achievements in the field of Developmental Biology. The first medal was awarded at the 2016 BSDB Spring Meeting, where the recipient will present the Cheryll Tickle Award Lecture.	TBC	http://bsdb.org/awards/the-cheryll-tickle-medal/
Annual	British Society for Developmental Biology	The Dennis Summerbell Lecture Award	BSDB members are invited to nominate suitable candidates following a generous donation, the BSDB has instituted the Dennis Summerbell Lecture, to be delivered at its annual Autumn Meeting by a junior researcher at either PhD or Post-doctoral level. The awardee's costs for attending the meeting will be met in full.	TBC	http://bsdb.org/awards/dennis-summerbell-lecture-award/
Annual	British Society for Matrix Biology	Young Investigator Award – John Scott Lecture	The "Young Investigator Award" is a prestigious award presented annually to an early career researcher who has made a significant contribution to matrix biology and has excelled in the early stages of their research career.	TBC	http://www.bsmb.ac.uk/awards-index/bsmb-awards/
Annual	British Society for Matrix Biology	Fell Muir Award	The award will be given to scientists of international stature who can demonstrate outstanding achievement in the field of matrix biology. Preference will be given to candidates who have contributed to the work and aims of the BSMB, although not necessarily from the UK.	TBC	http://www.bsmb.ac.uk/awards-index/fell-muir-award/
Annual	British Society for Matrix Biology	Poster Prizes	Candidates will be assessed by a sub-committee of the current executive, typically comprising the Chair, Secretary, Treasurer and another committee member, alongside the editor of IJEP (Professor David Katz). The award will consist of a cheque for £1000 and a framed certificate	TBC	http://www.bsmb.ac.uk/awards-index/poster-prizes/
Biennial (even years)	International Institute for Conservation of Historic and Artistic Works	The Keck Awards	Poster Prizes, sponsored by the International Journal of Experimental Pathology, are awarded at every BSMB meeting. Candidates for a prize need not be members of the society, but must be students or up to 3 years post-doc. Prize winners receive £150 each.	TBC	https://www.iiconservation.org/about/awards/keck
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	Alonzo Church Award	The cash award is presented every two years at the IIC Congress to -- in Caroline Keck's words -- the individual or group who has in the opinion of the Council contributed most towards promoting public understanding and appreciation of the accomplishments of the conservation profession.	TBC	http://eatcs.org/index.php/church-award
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	Best ICALP Paper	An annual award, called the Alonzo Church Award for Outstanding Contributions to Logic and Computation, was established in 2015 by the ACM Special Interest Group for Logic and Computation (SIGLOG), the European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS) the European Association for Computer Science Logic (EACSL), and the Kurt Goedel Society (KGS) (referred to below as the four "Sponsoring Organizations").	TBC	http://eatcs.org/index.php/best-icalp-paper
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	Best ETAPS Paper	The award is for an outstanding contribution represented by a paper or small group of papers within the past 25 years. This time span allows the contribution to have established evidence of lasting impact and depth. The award can be given to an individual or a group of individuals who have collaborated on the research	TBC	http://eatcs.org/index.php/best-etaps-paper
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	Best ESA Paper	The prize of "Best ETAPS Paper" is presented to the best theoretical paper at ETAPS.	TBC	http://eatcs.org/index.php/best-esa-paper
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	Best ICGT Paper	Beginning in 2007, EATCS sponsors an award for the best paper at ESA.	TBC	http://eatcs.org/index.php/best-icgt-paper
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	Best MFCS Paper	The prize of "Best ICGT Paper" is presented to the best theoretical paper at ICGT.	TBC	http://eatcs.org/index.php/best-mfcs-paper
TBC	European Society for Fuzzy Logic and Technology	EUSFLAT Best PhD Thesis Award	Beginning in 2011, EATCS sponsors an award for the best paper at MFCS.	TBC	http://www.eusflat.org/awards.php
TBC	European Society for Fuzzy Logic and Technology	Best Student-Paper Award at EUSFLAT Conferences	NOTE THE WEB PAGE REFERS TO 2011 AWARD - MAY HAVE BEEN A ONE OFF? During the EUSFLAT 2010 General Assembly, held in Dortmund, June 29, it was approved to establish two awards for the Best Ph.D. Thesis presented during each one of the two immediate complete years previous to each EUSFLAT conference. Therefore, with this call we encourage young researchers who got their PhD degree between January 1, 2013, and December 31, 2014, to apply to these awards.	TBC	http://www.eusflat.org/awards.php
TBC	European Society for Fuzzy Logic and Technology	EUSFLAT Scientific Excellence Award	NOTE THE WEB PAGE REFERS TO 2011 AWARD - MAY HAVE BEEN A ONE OFF? In the general assembly held in Dortmund (June 29, 2010) it was approved to establish an award for the EUSFLAT Best Student Paper presented at each EUSFLAT conference. Annual	The Royal Society of Edinburgh (via London Mathematical Society website)	Royal Medals	Nominations can only be made by Fellows of the Royal Society of Edinburgh. Nominations for the next round of Royal Medals are now closed. Royal Medals are awarded for distinction and international repute in any of the following categories: Life Sciences; Physical and Engineering Sciences; Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences; Business and Commerce	TBC	https://www.rse.org.uk/awards/royal-medals/
Annual	American Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Steele Prize for Lifetime Achievement	The Steele Prize for Lifetime Achievement is awarded for the cumulative influence of the total mathematical work of the recipient, high level of research over a period of time, particular influence on the development of a field, and influence on mathematics through Ph.D. students. The amount of this prize is US$10,000.	TBC	http://www.ams.org/profession/prizes-awards/ams-prizes/steele-prize
Annual	American Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Steele Prize for Mathematical Exposition	Next awarded Jan 2018 The Steele Prize for Mathematical Exposition is awarded for a book or substantial survey or expository research paper. The amount of this prize is US$5,000.	TBC	http://www.ams.org/profession/prizes-awards/ams-prizes/steele-prize
Annual	American Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Steele Prize for Seminal Contribution to Research	Next awarded Jan 2018 The Steele Prize for Seminal Contribution to Research is awarded for a paper, whether recent or not, that has proved to be fundamental or lasting importance in its field, or a model of important research. The amount of this prize is US$5,000.	TBC	http://www.ams.org/profession/prizes-awards/ams-prizes/steele-prize
Triennial	American Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Wiener Prize	The Wiener Prize is awarded for an outstanding contribution to "applied mathematics in the highest and broadest sense." Since 2004, the US$5,000 prize has been awarded every three years. The American Mathematical Society and the Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics award this prize jointly; the recipient must be a member of one of these societies. Next prize Jan 2019	TBC	http://www.ams.org/profession/prizes-awards/ams-prizes/wiener-prize
Triennial	American Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	Oswald Veblen Prize in Geometry	The Veblen Prize is awarded in recognition of a notable research memoir in geometry or topology published in the preceding six years. The current prize amount of US$5,000 is awarded every three years. To be considered, either the nominee should be a member of the Society or the memoir should have been published in a recognized North American journal. Next prize Jan 2019	TBC	http://www.ams.org/profession/prizes-awards/ams-prizes/veblen-prize
Quadrennial	Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics (via London Mathematical Society website)	George Pólya Prize in Combinatorics	The George Pólya Prize in Combinatorics, originally established in 1969, is awarded every four years for a notable application of combinatorial theory. The prize is broadly intended to recognize specific recent work. Next award 2020	TBC	http://www.siam.org/prizes/sponsored/polyacomb.php
Quadrennial	Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics (via London Mathematical Society website)	George Pólya Prize in Mathematics	The George Pólya Prize in Mathematics, originally established in 1992, is awarded every four years for a significant contribution, as evidenced by a refereed publication, in an area of mathematics of interest to George Pólya	TBC	http://www.siam.org/prizes/sponsored/polyamath.php
Quinquennial	Association for Symbolic Logic (via London Mathematical Society website)	Karp Prize	The Karp Prize, established in 1973 in memory of Professor Carol Karp, is awarded for an outstanding paper or book in the field of symbolic logic. This award is made by the Association on recommendation of the ASL Committee on Prizes and Awards. This prize is given every five years for a "connected body of research, most of which has been completed in the time since the previous prize was awarded." The Prize is awarded every five years and consists of a cash award. Last awarded 2013	TBC	http://www.asonline.org/info-prizes.html
Biennial (even years)	The Royal Society of Edinburgh (via London Mathematical Society website)	Sylvester Medal	The Sylvester Medal is awarded biennially (in even years) to an outstanding researcher in the field of mathematics	TBC	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/sylvester-medal/
Annual	Royal Academy of Engineering	Queen Elizabeth Prize for Engineering	The Queen Elizabeth Prize for Engineering is a global £1 million prize that celebrates a ground-breaking innovation in engineering. The prize rewards an individual or team of engineers whose work has had a major impact on humanity.	TBC	http://qeprize.org/nominate/
Annual	Royal Academy of Engineering	Silver Medal	Recognises an outstanding and demonstrated personal contribution to UK engineering, which results in successful market exploitation, by an engineer with less than 22 years in full-time employment or equivalent, who will normally be Chartered. (Any career breaks will be appropriately considered by the Committee.) Consideration will be given where an equal contribution has been made by more than one person, in which case, a joint award of two medals may be justified. Nominations that do not win the medal will remain before the Awards Committee for the succeeding two years unless barred by the requisite number of years in full time employment/equivalent. Annual	Royal Pharmaceutical Society	RPS Science Award	Annual award for a scientist working in a pharmaceutical or allied discipline in industry or academia with no more than 10 years experience at post-doctoral level, applicants must have a proven record of independent research and published work that shows outstanding promise. The winner receives £1,000 in prize money and an invitation to present the Royal Pharmaceutical Society Award Lecture on their work at the annual Academy of Pharmaceutical Sciences UKPharmSci Meeting held late summer. Call for applications announced in April each year. Applications are accepted from pharmaceutical scientists working anywhere in the world.	TBC	http://www.rpharms.com/what-s-happening-/awards.asp
Annual	Royal Pharmaceutical Society	Medicines Safety Award	To recognise a significant contribution to medicines safety in Great Britain. The focus of the award is on specific improvements in medicines safety with documented benefits for patients, saving lives or reducing harm. The award is part of an initiative of a former RPSGB President, Hemant Patel, to make Britain the safest place in the world to receive medicines. One award per year. Applicants called for and judging is by an independent panel. Award to be presented at the Medicines Safety Conference organised by the RPS, with the recipient making a presentation. This award may not still be given, only up to 2012 on website?	TBC	http://www.rpharms.com/what-s-happening-/awards.asp http://www.rpharms.com/awards/rps-medicines-safety-award.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Biology	Science Communication Awards	New Researcher Prize: £750 The New Researcher Award is open to bioscience researchers currently reading for a Masters/PhD or in the first year of a post-doctoral position. Established Researcher Prize: £1500 The Established Researcher Award is open to bioscience researchers who are beyond the first stages of their research career, as defined in the New Researcher category. The Society is looking for researchers who communicate their own work well, and who represent their own field strongly in the science communication world. The Society is looking for an applicant with commitment to outreach over a period of time. Annual	THES	Annual Awards	Categories vary from year to year – 2016 awards included: The Lord Dearing Lifetime Achievement Award; Outstanding Employer Engagement Initiative; Outstanding Contribution to Innovation & Technology; University of the Year; Outstanding Digital Innovation in Teaching or Research; Outstanding Contribution to the Local Community; Research Project of the Year; International Collaboration of the Year; Most Innovative Contribution to Business-University Collaboration; Outstanding Research Supervisor of the Year; THE DataPoints Merit Award (closing date June/July annually)	TBC June/July	http://www.the-awards.co.uk/
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	Edsger W. Dijkstra Prize	The Edsger W. Dijkstra Prize in Distributed Computing is named for Edsger Wybe Dijkstra (1930-2002), a pioneer in the area of distributed computing. Nominations may be made by any member of the scientific community. Each nomination must identify the paper being nominated and include a few paragraphs (approximately 400 words) justifying the nomination. Papers appearing in any conference proceedings or journal are eligible, as long as they have had a significant impact on research areas of interest within the theory of distributed computing community, and as long as the year of the original publication is at least ten years prior to the year in which the award is given. The winners of the award will share the cash award, and each winning author will be presented with a plaque.	TBC likely 31/12/2017	http://eatcs.org/index.php/dijkstra-prize
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	Presburger Award	Nominations for the Presburger Award can be submitted by any member or group of members of the theoretical computer science community except the nominee and his/her advisors for the master thesis and the doctoral dissertation. Nominated scientists have to be at most 35 years at the time of the deadline of nomination (i.e., for the Presburger Award of 2017 the date of birth should be in 1981 or later)	TBC likely 31/12/2017	http://eatcs.org/index.php/presburger
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	EATCS Distinguished Achievements Award	EATCS annually honors a respected scientist from our community with the prestigious EATCS Distinguished Achievements Award. The award is given to acknowledge extensive and widely recognized contributions to theoretical computer science over a life long scientific career	TBC likely 31/12/2017	http://eatcs.org/index.php/eatcs-award
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	IPEC Nerode Prize	The EATCS-IPEC Nerode Prize for outstanding papers in the area of multivariate algorithmics, is presented annually with the presentation taking place at IPEC (International Symposium on Parameterized and Exact Computation). Any research paper or series of research papers by a single author or by a team of authors published in a recognized refereed journal. The year of publication should be at least two years and at most ten years before the year of the award nomination. The research work nominated for the award should be in the area of multivariate algorithms and complexity meant in a broad sense, and encompasses, but is not restricted to, those areas covered by IPEC. The Award Committee has the ultimate authority to decide on the eligibility of a nomination. Papers authored by a member of the Award Committee are not eligible for nomination. Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	EATCS Distinguished Dissertation Award	The EATCS establishes the Distinguished Dissertation Award to promote and recognize outstanding dissertations in the field of Theoretical Computer Science. Any PhD dissertation in the field of Theoretical Computer Science that has been successfully defended in the same year as nomination is eligible.	TBC likely 31/12/2017	http://eatcs.org/index.php/dissertation-award
Annual	Anatomical Society	New Fellow of the Year Award	The Anatomical Society will present a New Fellow of the Year Award to the Fellow of the Anatomical Society who has demonstrated the most significant accomplishments relative to their career stage. The award will be presented at the Society's Winter Meeting. The New Fellow of the Year will be selected from those elected to Fellowship during the previous academic year. £500 and certificate	Unknown	http://www.anatsoc.org.uk/funding-and-awards/grants-and-prizes/new-fellow-of-the-year-award

Annual	Society for Experimental Biology	President's Medal	In order for a person to be nominated for a President's Medal the nominee will be a demonstrable independent researcher or scientist, in the early stage of their career, normally within 10 years of being awarded their PhD. They may be leading their own group already and have demonstrated those qualities which make them respected by their peers and regarded as a creative and novel thinker.	30 September 2017	http://www.sebiology.org/about-seb/honours-and-awards/president-s-medal
Annual	Society for Experimental Biology	Young scientist award session	The session provides the opportunity for postgraduates and post docs, who are within 5 years since completing their PhD, to showcase their talents and is designed to recognise the best young researchers. There are three prizes per section (i.e. Animal-Cell and Plant-Cell). Prizes on offer are as follows: • 1st Prize: £400 • Runners up: 2 x £100	TBC	http://www.sebiology.org/about-seb/honours-and-awards/young-scientist-award
Annual	Society for Experimental Biology	Irene Manton Poster Award	The meeting at which the awards will be presented is 3-6 July 2017 The Irene Manton Poster Prize is open to students and early career scientists and takes place each year at the SEB Annual Main Meeting. A prize of £100 is awarded to the best poster in each section (animal, cell and plant biology).	Likely June 2017	http://www.sebiology.org/about-seb/honours-and-awards/irene-manton-poster-award
Annual	International Centre for Theoretical Physics (via London Mathematical Society website)	Ramanujan Prize	Instituted by the Shanmuga Arts, Science, Technology, Research Academy (SASTRA) based in South India, is to be given annually to a mathematician not exceeding the age of 32 for outstanding contributions to an area of mathematics influenced by S. Ramanujan (who lived only up to 32). The Prize winner must be less than 45 years of age on 31 December of the year of the award, and have conducted outstanding research in a developing country. Researchers working in any branch of the mathematical sciences are eligible. The Prize carries a $15,000 cash award. The winner will be invited to ICTP to receive the Prize and deliver a lecture. Biennial (odd years)	European Mathematical Society (via Institut de Mathématiques de Toulouse, Université Paul Sabatier)	The Fermat Prize	The Fermat Prize rewards the work of research mathematicians, of less than 45 years, in areas where the contributions of Pierre de FERMAT have been decisive: Statements of variational principles and equations in partial derivatives Basis for the calculation of probabilities and analytic geometry number theory. Applications may be filed by the candidate himself, or by a nomination Amount of €20,000, attributed by the Pyrenees-Mediterranean Occitania Region, the Fermat prize is awarded every two years in Toulouse.	Likely 30/06/2018	https://www.math.univ-toulouse.fr/spip.php?article240&lang=fr
Biennial	British Pharmacological Society	GlaxoSmithKline Prize for Research in Clinical Pharmacology	Recipient announced December This recognises the best research in clinical pharmacology. The prize is worth £500, and the winner will be invited to give a lecture at a BPS meeting.	Likely 31/07/2018	https://www.bps.ac.uk/membership-awards/prizes/grahame-smith-prize
Biennial (even years)	Royal Meteorological Society	The Mason Gold Medal	The citation for the Mason Gold Medal is "For outstanding contributions to the understanding of the fundamental processes that determine the variability and predictability of weather and climate". The medal is presented at an appropriate special event and consists of a lecture by the recipient known as The Mason Gold Medal Lecture.	Likely 21/10/2018	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Biennial (even years)	Royal Meteorological Society	The Hugh Robert Mill Award	The Hugh Robert Mill Award is awarded biennially for original research into the distribution or variation of rainfall or its application to meteorology or a related science	Likely 21/10/2018	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Triennial	American Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	Böcher Memorial Prize	Awarded every three years for a notable research memoir in analysis that has appeared during the past six years in a recognized North American journal or was authored by a member of the American Mathematical Society. The current prize amount is US$5,000, awarded every three years. To be eligible, papers must be either authored by an AMS member or published in a recognized North American journal.	2020	http://www.ams.org/profession/prizes-awards/prizes
Triennial	American Mathematical Society (via London Mathematical Society website)	Frank Nelson Cole Prize in Number Theory	The Cole Prize is one of two prizes awarded to mathematicians by the American Mathematical Society, one for an outstanding contribution to algebra, and the other for an outstanding contribution to number theory. This prize recognizes a notable paper in number theory published during the preceding six years. Currently, the US$5,000 prize is awarded every three years. To be eligible, the author should be a member of the American Mathematical Society or the paper should have been published in a recognized North American journal.	2020	http://www.ams.org/profession/prizes-awards/ams-prizes/cole-prize-number-theory
Biennial (odd years)	Royal Meteorological Society	The Symons Gold Medal	The medal is awarded biennially for distinguished work in connection with meteorological science.	TBC	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Annual	Royal Meteorological Society	The L F Richardson Prize	The L F Richardson Prize is awarded annually for a meritorious paper which was published in a Society journal during the preceding four years, and was contributed by a member of the Society who in their early career in meteorology (which we define as no more than 15 years into their career, excluding career breaks) at the time of submission.	21 October 2017	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Biennial (odd years - previously even)	Royal Meteorological Society	The FitzRoy Prize	The FitzRoy Prize is awarded for distinguished work in applications of meteorology or related sciences, especially if published in Society journals. For this purpose, "applications" shall be defined as "scientific, technical, commercial and administrative aspects from the point of view of the end user". The main requirement is that the work is of use to meteorologists, users of meteorological products and those engaged in the dialogue between them.	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Annual	Royal Meteorological Society	The Adrian Gill Award	Awarded annually to a member of the Society who has made a significant contribution, in the preceding five years, in the specified fields, and who has also been an author of a paper(s) in the Society's journals. The specified fields are those that interface between atmospheric science and related disciplines. These related disciplines include oceanography, hydrology, geochemistry and numerical methodologies	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Biennial (even years)	Royal Meteorological Society	The Michael Hunt Award	The Michael Hunt Award, which commemorates the achievements of Michael Hunt who was a TV weatherman, is given biennially for excellence in increasing the understanding of meteorology or its applied disciplines among members of the general public, including particular groups (eg. school children, yachtsmen, etc)	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Annual	Royal Meteorological Society	The Gordon Manley Weather Prize	The Society's journal Weather was first published in 1946 when Gordon Manley was President of the Society and the journal benefited from his encouragement. The Gordon Manley Prize is awarded annually for any outstanding contribution to Weather through a paper or papers -- or other outstanding service to Weather -- in the preceding five years that has furthered the public understanding of meteorology and oceanography	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Annual	Royal Meteorological Society	The International Journal of Climatology Prize	The International Journal of Climatology Prize shall be awarded annually to the author of a meritorious paper or papers, contributed to the Society and published in the International Journal of Climatology in any of the five consecutive calendar years preceding the year of the award, or for an individual who has made an outstanding contribution to the work of the journal.	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Annual	Royal Meteorological Society	The Society Outstanding Service Award	The Society Outstanding Service Award was first awarded in 1989. It is awarded annually to a member of the Society who has exceeded the normal bounds of their role to the great benefit of the Society	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards

Biennial (odd years)	Royal Meteorological Society	The Vaisala Award	The Vaisala Award is awarded biennially to recognise individuals or teams within the amateur community, academia or business who have made significant contributions to the field of observation and instrumentation. In particular this award recognises: instrument development; collection and quality control of observations; insight into observing the weather/climate; or meteorological field campaigns	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Biennial (even years)	Royal Meteorological Society	The Innovation Award	The award is based around innovation in meteorology, with a particular focus on business and/or public impact. It recognises people, projects or programmes within the academic, scientific or business communities who have made significant contributions to educating, informing or motivating organisations in their response to meteorological challenges, for example climate change or significant weather events. This is awarded biennially in recognition of contributions from both the professional and amateur community and outstanding contributions to the work of national and international meteorological field campaigns. It may be awarded to those whose work does not naturally lend itself necessarily to publication in the scientific journal literature, but is of significant value to the science of meteorology.	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Annual	Royal Meteorological Society	Climate Science Communications Award	The Climate Science Communications Award is awarded annually in recognition of outstanding scientific contributions in the field of climate science and proactive outreach activities to communicate climate science. The Prize is awarded to a member of the Society who has made a significant contribution, in the field of climate science, and who has also excelled in increasing the understanding of climate science among members of the general public.	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/details-our-awards
Annual	Royal Meteorological Society	Honorary Fellowship	lifetime accolade made to a select group of distinguished individuals whose careers in meteorology (or a related science) as a public figure renders them a leader and role model within the meteorological community and an inspiration to future generations. Honorary Fellowship is limited to just 30 individuals at any one time and is the highest honour bestowed by the Society. Nominations can be made via website infc	21 October 2016	https://www.rmets.org/our-activities/awards/nominations-awards-and-prizes-2016
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Doctoral Dissertation Award	Only a Ph.D. student's advisor may nominate a dissertation. For each year's award cycle, a nominated dissertation must have been successfully defended (not deposit date) by the department between October 2015 through (and including) September 2016. ACM established the Doctoral Dissertation Award program to recognize and encourage superior research and writing by doctoral candidates in computer science and engineering. The award is presented each June at the ACM Awards Banquet and is accompanied by a prize of $20,000 plus travel expenses to the banquet. As of January 1, 2014 all winning dissertations are published exclusively in print and electronic formats as part of the ACM Books Series, which includes distribution through the ACM Digital Library	31 October 2016	http://awards.acm.org/doctoral_dissertation/nominations.cfm
Annual	ESRC	Celebrating Impact Prize	These prizes recognise impact arising from ESRC funded research across six different categories. Each category winner receives a prize of £10,000.	01 December 2016	http://www.esrc.ac.uk/research/celebrating-impact-prize/
Annual	EPSRC	Telling tales of engagement competition	This supports researchers in further telling the story of research impact in an interesting and engaging way to a wider audience. Three awards, worth up to £10,000 each, are available for a maximum duration of 18 months	01 December 2016	https://www.epsrc.ac.uk/funding/calls/ttoe2016/
Annual	National Centre for the Replacement, Refinement and Reduction of Animals in Research	International 3Rs Prize	This recognises an original contribution to scientific and technological advances in the 3Rs in medical, biological or veterinary sciences published in a peer-reviewed journal within the last three years. The prize consists of a grant of £28,000, plus a personal award of £2,000. Highly commended entries receive a £4,000 grant and £1,000 personal award.	09 December 2016	http://www.nc3rs.org.uk/page.asp?id=149
Quadrennial	International Mathematical Union (IMU) (via London Mathematical Society website)	The Rolf Nevanlinna Prize	The Rolf Nevanlinna Prize is awarded once every 4 years at the International Congress of Mathematicians, for outstanding contributions in Mathematical Aspects of Information Sciences. Nominations may still be accepted.	31 December 2016	http://www.mathunion.org/general/prizes/nevanlinna/details/
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Biomedical Engineering Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to the field of biomedical engineering. Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: impact on the profession and/or society; succession of significant technical or other contributions; leadership in accomplishing worthwhile goal(s); previous honors; other achievements as evidenced by publications, patents, or other evidence; and the quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and cash honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/biomed_eng.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Electromagnetics Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to the theory and/or application of electromagnetics. Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: impact on the profession, innovation/originality, quality of publications, breadth, depth and duration of contributions, honors, other achievements, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/electromag.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE James L. Flanagan Speech and Audio Processing Award	Scope: For an outstanding contribution to the advancement of speech and/or audio signal processing. Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: impact on the fields of speech and/or audio processing technology, innovation, leadership, honors or seminal contributions, publications or patents, transition to practice, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/flanagan.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Fourier Award for Signal Processing	Scope: For an outstanding contribution to the advancement of signal processing, other than in the areas of speech and audio processing. Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria will be considered: impact on the field of signal processing technology, including innovation; leadership; honors or seminal contributions as evidenced by publications or patents or transition to practice; and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/fourier.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Andrew S. Grove Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to solid-state devices and technology Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: field leadership, contribution, originality, breadth, inventive value, publications, other achievements; society activities, honors, duration, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/grove.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Herman Halperin Electric Transmission and Distribution Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to electric transmission and distribution Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: technological importance, successful application, originality, leadership, publications, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, a certificate, and honorarium	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/halperin.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Masaru Ibuka Consumer Electronics Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions in the field of consumer electronics technology Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: technical innovation, creativity, quality, timeliness, societal benefit, technology enhancement associated with achievement(s), leadership and professional contributions of the individual(s) identifiable with the achievements, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/ibuka.html

Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Internet Award	Scope: For exceptional contributions to the advancement of Internet technology for network architecture, mobility, and/or end-use applications Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: innovation, leadership in the field, contributions to open system, specification, honors or other achievements, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/tfas_internet.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Richard Harold Kaufmann Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions in industrial systems engineering Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: exceptional contributions to design or application of systems technology, application of systems technology, apparatus, devices or materials for plant power distribution, drive systems, process control or other utilization systems, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/kaufmann.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Joseph F. Keithley Award in Instrumentation and Measurement	Scope: For outstanding contributions in electrical measurements Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: originality (with particular emphasis on individual effort); quality (general benefit); influence (on other work in the field); breadth; standards or measurement instrumentation (physical, sensing, information processing, information retrieval and display, etc.); and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and cash honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/keithley.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Gustav Robert Kirchhoff Award	Scope: For an outstanding contribution to the fundamentals of any aspect of electronic circuits and systems that has a long-term significance or impact Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: impact; perceived long-term and fundamental nature of the contribution(s); originality; publication of a significant and profound new and nonobvious result or an approach in a subject area that relates to the circuits and systems, but which has broader impact across other aspects of electronic or electrical engineering; patents; starting a company based on a fundamental contribution; and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/kirchhoff.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Koji Kobayashi Computers and Communications Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to the integration of computers and communications Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: developments, inventions, systems, or methods of significance in the field of computer and communications for which the candidate deserves principal credit, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/kobayashi.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE William E. Newell Power Electronics Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to power electronics Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, sustained outstanding contributions in the following areas are considered: teaching of power electronics; innovative research or consulting endeavors; professional seminars; realization of major projects, major project or program management; impact on the power electronics profession; publications and patents; quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/newell.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Daniel E. Noble Award for Emerging Technologies	Scope: For outstanding contributions to emerging technologies recognized within recent years Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: emerging technologies recently discovered; invented or recognized technology importance; impact; originality; breadth; significance; quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/noble.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Donald O. Pederson Award in Solid-State Circuits	Scope: For outstanding contributions to solid-state circuits Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: impact, timeliness, quality, societal benefit technology enhancement and creativity associated with the contribution, leadership and professional contributions of individual(s) identified with this achievement, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/pederson.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Frederik Philips Award	Scope: For outstanding accomplishments in the management of research and development resulting in effective innovation in the electrical and electronics industry Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: leadership in management, impact on innovation, personal contributions, technological impact, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/philips.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Photonics Award	Scope: For outstanding achievements in photonics Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: outstanding discovery, significant scientific or technological advancement, important invention, impact on field, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/photonics.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Robotics and Automation Award	Scope: For contributions in the field of robotics and automation Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: manufacturing automation, robotics and automation in unstructured environment, sensor design, integration and fusion, robot design, modeling, planning and control, methodologies for robotics and automation, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/robotauto.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Frank Rosenblatt Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to biologically and linguistically motivated computational paradigms and systems Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: quality of the contribution; impact on the technical field and society as demonstrated by publications, patents, or other evidence; and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/rosenblatt.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Marie Skłodowska-Curie Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to the field of nuclear and plasma sciences and engineering Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: importance of individual scientific contribution, importance of scientific contributions made by teams led by the candidate, seminal nature of the contribution, innovation/originality, societal benefit, impact on the profession, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and cash honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/curie.html

Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Innovation in Societal Infrastructure Award	Scope: For significant technological achievements and contributions to the establishment, development, and proliferation of innovative societal infrastructure systems through the application of information technology with an emphasis on distributed computing systems Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: impact on society with an emphasis on contributions to efficient infrastructure systems (e.g. breadth of use, energy savings, resource utilization, cost efficiency) as well as market size/revenue; originality of systems concept; leadership; impact on innovation; extension to further technological development; and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and cash honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/isi_award.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Charles Proteus Steinmetz Award	Scope: For exceptional contributions to the development and/or advancement of standards in electrical and electronics engineering Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: engineering and administrative accomplishment and responsibilities, publications (books, standards, papers, conference), honors; supporting letters; IEEE Activities, other organizations, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/steinmetz.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Eric E. Sumner Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to communications technology Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: research, development, and application contributions to all aspects of leading-edge communication technology (work cited could have appeared in the form of publications, patents, or products, or could be a generally recognized major technological advancement in the field), and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/sumner.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Nikola Tesla Award	Scope: For outstanding contributions to the generation and utilization of electric power Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: impact on technology, inventive value, breadth of use, leadership, and quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/tesla.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Kiyo Tomiyasu Award	Scope: For outstanding early to mid-career contributions to technologies holding the promise of innovative applications Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria are considered: innovation or development, social value, uniqueness of concept, other technical accomplishments, and the quality of the nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and honorarium	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/47702_tfas_tomiyasu.html
Annual	Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers	IEEE Transportation Technologies Award	Scope: For advances in technologies within the fields of interest to the IEEE as applied in transportation systems Basis for judging: In the evaluation process, the following criteria will be considered: impact on the profession and/or society; sustained technical or other contributions in monitoring, control, power, navigation, and/or communication as applied in transportation systems; leadership in accomplishing worthwhile goal(s); other achievements as evidenced by publications, patents, or other evidence; and quality of nomination. Prize: The award consists of a bronze medal, certificate, and cash honorarium.	15 January 2017	http://www.ieee.org/about/awards/tfas/transportation_technologies.html
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Applied Inorganic Chemistry Award	For outstanding contributions to the development of any branch of inorganic chemistry which has an application in industry Only RSC members can nominate. Award of £2000 plus medal	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/AppliedInorganicChemistryAward/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Bader Award	To recognise eminence in organic chemistry, which has not previously been rewarded by the RSC. Winner receives £2000 and a medal and will complete a UK lecture tour. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/BaderAward/index.asp
Triennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Barrer Award	Recognises excellent pure or applied work in the fields of porous inorganic materials	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/BarrerAward/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Beilby Medal and Prize	The Beilby Medal and Prize recognises work of exceptional practical significance in chemical engineering, applied materials science, energy efficiency or a related field	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/Beilby/index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Bioinorganic Chemistry Award	Recognises outstanding research in any aspect of bioinorganic chemistry	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/BioinorganicChemistry/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Bourke Award	The Bourke Award enables distinguished scientists from overseas to lecture in the UK in the field of physical chemistry or chemical physics. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/BourkeAward/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Centenary Prizes	Awarded to outstanding chemists who are also exceptional communicators from overseas to give lectures in the British Isles Up to 3 awards pa, only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/CentenaryPrizes/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Chemical Dynamics Award	For outstanding innovative research on the dynamics of molecules, including spectroscopy, kinetics or molecular interactions in the gas, liquid or solid phase	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/ChemicalDynamicsAward/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Chemical Sciences Apprentice of the Year	This award is given to individuals that have been working as an apprentice in a technical support role, with a strong basis in chemical sciences, for at least one year. This will typically involve, but not exclusively, the planning and preparation of experiments, the preparation and management of chemical reagents/samples/analytes, or the management of chemical resources, such as instrumentation and its maintenance.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/ApprenticeOfTheYear/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Chemistry World Entrepreneur of the Year	This award is given to individuals who demonstrated creativity and vision, driving chemistry innovation to commercial success for their business.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/EntrepreneuroftheYear/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Corday-Morgan Prizes	Awarded for the most meritorious contributions to chemistry. Up to 3 awards pa of £500 plus UK lecture tour	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/CordayMorganPrizes/index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Creativity in Industry Prize	An outstanding achievement award recognising the contribution of an individual to the chemical sciences industry.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/CreativityinIndustryPrize/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Dalton Emerging Researcher Award	For inorganic research chemists within 2 years completion of their PhD. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/DaltonYoungResearchersAward/index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	de Gennes Prize	The de Gennes Prize is for outstanding and exceptional work in the field of materials chemistry. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/deGennesPrize/index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Environment Prize	The Environment Prize is awarded for outstanding contributions to the chemical sciences in the area of environment, sustainability and energy. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/EnvironmentPrize/index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Environment, Sustainability and Energy Division Early Career Award	For exceptional contributions to the chemical sciences in the area of environment, sustainability and energy. Nominees should be 35 or under on 31 January or be within 10 years of completing their PhD. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/ESEDEarlyCareerAward/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Harrison-Meldola Memorial Prizes	Awarded for the most meritorious and promising original investigations in chemistry and published results of those investigations. Nominees should be 35 or under on 31 January or be within 7 years of completing their PhD. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/HarrisonMeldolaMemorialPrizes/index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Hickinbottom Award	For contributions to any area of organic chemistry from a researcher under the age of 35 on 31 January. The winner receive £2000, a medal and a certificate. The winner also receives the £4000 Briggs Scholarship to support one of their research students. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/HickinbottomAward/index.asp

Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Homogeneous Catalysis Award	Recognises outstanding research in homogeneous catalysis. The winner receives £2000, a medal and a certificate. Nominee should be 55 or under on 31 January. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/HomogeneousCatalysisAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Industry-Academia Collaboration Award	Recognises outstanding examples of teamwork in promoting innovation through industry-academia partnerships. The award is open to teams of any size working on a collaborative project between industry and academia. The project may be a discrete part of a larger, on-going industrial programme or stand alone. Industry-academia current or past partnerships welcome.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/TeamworkInnovation/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Inorganic Mechanisms Award	Recognises studies leading to the understanding of reaction mechanisms in any branch of inorganic chemistry and by any methods. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/InorganicMechanismsAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Inspiration and Industry Award	This award is given in recognition of an individual's or team's impact on the local or national community in relation to the promotion of science and STEM careers.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/InspirationandIndustryAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Interdisciplinary Prizes	Awarded for work at the interface between chemistry and other disciplines. Up to 3 prizes pa are awarded	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/InterdisciplinaryPrize/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Jeremy Knowles Award	To recognise and promote the importance of inter- and multidisciplinary research between chemistry and life sciences. Nominees should be 55 or under on 31 January. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/JeremyKnowlesAward/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	John B Goodenough Award	To recognise exceptional and sustained contributions to the area of materials chemistry. Open to nominees who have spent an appreciable part of their career working in the UK or Republic of Ireland. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/JohnBGoodenoughAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Joseph Black Award	For a young scientist in any field covering the practice and teaching of analytical science. Nominees should be 35 or under on 31 January or be within 10 years of completing their PhD. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/JosephBlackAward/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Liversidge Award	Recognises outstanding contributions to physical chemistry. The lecture should describe new research and should point out the direction in which further research in physical chemistry is desirable. This Award changed to run in odd years from 2017. Work completed in the last 10 years will be given particular consideration. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/LiversidgeAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Ludwig Mond Award	For outstanding research in any aspect of inorganic chemistry. Candidates should be 55 or below on 31 January. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/LudwigMondAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Marlow Award	In recognition of the most meritorious contributions to physical chemistry or chemical physics. Up to two awards are available. The winner(s) receives £2000, a medal and a certificate and will complete a UK lecture tour. The winner(s) also receives a £3000 R.A. Robinson Lectureship Bursary, for the purpose of giving a lecture in either Singapore, Malaysia, Australia or New Zealand (but this may be part of a wider lecture tour), and should take place within 2 years of receiving the award. Candidates should be 35 or under on 31 January or be within 10 years of completing their PhD. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/MarlowAward/
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Merck, Sharpe & Dohme Award	For contributions to any area of organic chemistry from a researcher under the age of 45 (on 31 January). Nominees will be assessed on work published in the previous five years. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/MerckAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Norman Heatley Award	To recognise and promote the importance of inter- and multidisciplinary research between chemistry and life sciences through independent work. The award is open to nominees based in the UK or Republic of Ireland only. Nominees should be 40 or under on 31 January. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/NormanHeatleyAward/
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Organic Industrial Chemistry Award	For the application of organic chemistry in an industrial context by a person or team. Both teams and individuals can be nominated. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/OrganicIndustrialChemistryAward/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Organometallic Chemistry Award	For any aspect of the organic chemistry of the main group and transition metals. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/OrganometallicChemistryAward/
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Pedler Award	The Pedler Award is for contributions to any area of organic chemistry from a researcher under the age of 55 (on 31 January). Nominees will be assessed on their work published in the previous five years. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/PedlerAward/
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Perkin Prize for Organic Chemistry	The Perkin Prize for organic chemistry is awarded for sustained originality and achievement in research in any area of organic chemistry. Only RSC members may nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/PerkinPrize/
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Peter Day Award	For outstanding contributions to, and advancement of, the field of Materials Chemistry. The award will alternate between those specialising in the broad areas of soft matter (even years) and of continuous lattice solids (odd years). Nominees should be 55 or under on 31 January. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/PeterDayAward/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Physical Organic Chemistry Award	The Physical Organic Chemistry Award covers the relationship between structure and molecular behaviours in chemistry. The associated lecture is the Ingold Lecture. Only RSC members can nominate	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/PhysicalOrganicChemistryAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Rita and John Cornforth Award	The Rita and John Cornforth Award enables scientists working in collaborative research teams with both chemistry and the life sciences disciplines to be promoted and rewarded. Nominations must be for teams and not individuals and only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/RitaandJohnCornforthAward/
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Robert Robinson Award	Award is for contributions to organic chemistry from a researcher over the age of 55. Nominees will be assessed on work published after their 55th Birthday. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/RobertRobinsonAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Ronald Belcher Award	Given for work on an analytical topic, by a current post-graduate student (at close of nominations - 31 January) of a British or Irish University. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/RonaldBelcherAward/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	S F Boys - A Rahman Award	For outstanding innovative research in the area of computational chemistry, including both quantum chemistry and molecular simulations. Work completed in the last 10 years will be given particular consideration. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/BoysRahmanAward/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Sir Edward Frankland Fellowship	Presented for the encouragement of research in organometallic chemistry or the co-ordination chemistry of transition metals. Nominees should be 36 or under on 31 January. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/SirEdwardFranklandFellowship/
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Sir George Stokes Award	Recognises outstanding and sustained contributions to analytical science by someone demonstrably working in a complementary field, which has led to developments of seminal importance to chemical analysis. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/SirGeorgeStokesAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Soft Matter and Biophysical Chemistry Award	For outstanding and innovative research in soft condensed matter and/or the application of physico-chemical techniques to biological problems. Nominees should be 55 or under on 31 January. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/SoftMatterBiophysicalChemistryAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Surfaces and Interfaces Award	For outstanding and innovative research on the behaviour of chemical systems at surfaces or interfaces. Nominees should be 55 or under on 31 January. Work completed in the last 10 years will be given particular consideration. Only RSC member can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/SurfacesInterfacesAward/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Sustainable Energy Award	For the contributions of chemical sciences to sustainable energy. This includes development or understanding of materials and processes and the improvement of existing technologies through the application of the chemical sciences. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/SustainableEnergyAward/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Synthetic Organic Chemistry Award	recognises the development of new methods or strategies employed in the construction of organic molecules. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/SyntheticOrganicChemistryAward/Index.asp

Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Theophilus Redwood Award	Awarded to a leading analytical scientist who is also an outstanding communicator. Nominees must demonstrate a record of outstanding communication by means including, but not limited to, scientific publications, public engagement and the use of online media. Only RSC members can nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/TheophilusRedwoodAward/Index.asp
Annual	Royal Society of Chemistry	Tilden Prizes	Awarded for advances in chemistry. Up to 3 prizes are available. Nominees should be 55 or under on 31 January. Only RSC members may nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/TildenPrizes/Index.asp
Biennial	Royal Society of Chemistry	Toxicology Award	For the contributions of chemical science to occupational and environmental toxicology. Only RSC members may nominate.	16 January 2017	http://www.rsc.org/ScienceAndTechnology/Awards/ToxicologyAward/Index.asp
Annual	London Mathematical Society	The PÓLYA PRIZE	Awarded in recognition of outstanding creativity in, imaginative exposition of, or distinguished contribution to, mathematics within the United Kingdom.	24 January 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/2017-nominations-lms-prizes
Annual	London Mathematical Society	The SHEPARD PRIZE	awarded to a mathematician or mathematicians for making a contribution to mathematics with a strong intuitive component which can be explained to those with little or no knowledge of university mathematics, though the work itself may involve more advanced ideas.	24 January 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/2017-nominations-lms-prizes
Annual	London Mathematical Society	The SENIOR WHITEHEAD PRIZE	grounds for the award may include work in, influence on or service to mathematics, or recognition of lecturing gifts in the field of mathematics	24 January 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/2017-nominations-lms-prizes
Annual	London Mathematical Society	The NAYLOR PRIZE AND LECTURESHIP IN APPLIED MATHEMATICS	grounds for the award may include work in, and influence on, and contributions to applied mathematics and/or the applications of mathematics, and lecturing gifts	24 January 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/2017-nominations-lms-prizes
Annual	London Mathematical Society	The SENIOR ANNE BENNETT PRIZE	grounds for the award are work in, influence on or service to mathematics, particularly in relation to advancing the careers of women in mathematics	24 January 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/2017-nominations-lms-prizes
Annual	London Mathematical Society	The WHITEHEAD PRIZES	for work in and influence on mathematics.	24 January 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/2017-nominations-lms-prizes
Annual	London Mathematical Society	The BERWICK PRIZE	awarded to the author(s) of a definite piece of research actually published by the Society during the eight years ending on 31 December 2016.	24 January 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/2017-nominations-lms-prizes
Biennial (even years)	London Mathematical Society	Louis Bachelier Prize	Nominees must be permanent residents in Europe on 1st January 2016. 'Europe,' is taken as meaning Europe in the geographical sense. The Prize will be awarded to the winner for his/her exceptional contribution to mathematical modelling in finance, insurance, risk management and/or scientific computing applied to finance and insurance. The winner will have a list of outstanding publications in top quality academic journals in the areas of quantitative finance, insurance, risk management and/or computational methods in finance, and be recognized by their peers in academia and industry for their exceptional contribution to mathematical modelling in finance	24 January 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/2017-nominations-lms-prizes
Annual	Royal Society	Bakerian Medal & Lecture	The Bakerian Medal and Lecture is awarded annually and is the premier lecture in physical sciences. The lecture is accompanied by a gift of £10,000.	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/bakerian-lecture/
Biennial (odd years)	Royal Society	Buchanan Medal	For distinguished contributions to medial sciences. The medal is of silver gilt and is accompanied by a gift of £2000	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/buchanan-medal/
Annual	Royal Society	Clifford Paterson Medal and Lecture	This award is given on a subject in the field of engineering. The lecture is accompanied by £500	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/clifford-paterson-lecture/
Annual	Royal Society	Copley Medal	The Copley Medal is the Society's oldest and most prestigious award. The medal is now awarded annually for outstanding achievements in research in any branch of science. The award alternates between the physical and biological sciences (odd and even years respectively). The medal is accompanied by a gift of £25,000. 2017 will be open for nominations in the physical sciences.	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/copley-medal/
Annual	Royal Society	Croonian Medal and Lecture	This prize lecture is the premier lecture in the biological sciences and is delivered annually at the Royal Society in London. The medal is accompanied by a prize of £10,000	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/croonian-lecture/
Annual	Royal Society	GlaxoSmithKline Prize and Lecture	This award recognises one individual for original contributions to medical and veterinary sciences, published within 10 years from the date of the award. The prize includes £2,500 and an invitation to deliver a lecture at the society.	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/glaxosmithkline-prize-lecture/
Annual	Royal Society	Davy Medal	The Davy Medal is awarded annually to an outstanding researcher in the field of chemistry	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/davy-medal/
Annual	Royal Society	Francis Crick Medal and Lecture	The Francis Crick Medal and Lecture is given annually in any field in the biological sciences. Preference is given to genetics, molecular biology and neurobiology, the general areas in which Francis Crick worked, and to fundamental theoretical work, which was the hallmark of Crick's science. The medal is accompanied by a gift of £2,000.	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/francis-crick-lecture/
Biennial (odd years)	Royal Society	Gabor Medal	The Gabor Medal is awarded biennially (in odd years) for acknowledged distinction of interdisciplinary work between the life sciences with other disciplines. The medal is accompanied by a gift of £2,000.	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/gabor-medal/
Biennial (odd years)	Royal Society	Hughes Medal	The Hughes Medal is awarded biennially (in odd years) to an outstanding researcher in the field of energy. The medal is accompanied by a gift of £2,000.	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/hughes-medal/
Triennial	Royal Society	Leeuwenhoek Medal & Lecture	The Leeuwenhoek Medal and Lecture is given triennially. It was originally established to recognise excellence in the field of microbiology but now also includes excellence in bacteriology, virology, mycology and parasitology, and microscopy. The lectureship is accompanied by a medal and a gift of £2,000	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/leeuwenhoek-lecture/
Annual	Royal Society	Michael Faraday Prize & Lecture	The Royal Society Michael Faraday Prize and Lecture is awarded annually to the scientist or engineer whose expertise in communicating scientific ideas in lay terms is exemplary. Normally, preference will be given to a practising scientist or engineer, but other individuals whose primary expertise is in writing, broadcasting or other relevant forms of communication may also be considered.	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/michael-faraday-prize/
Annual	Royal Society	Milner Award	The Milner Award is awarded annually for outstanding achievement in computer science by a European researcher. The Royal Society Milner Award, supported by Microsoft Research, is given annually for outstanding achievement in computer science by a European researcher. The recipient is chosen by the Council of the Royal Society on the recommendation of the Milner Award Committee. The Committee is made up of Fellows of the Royal Society, Members of the Académie des sciences and Members of Leopoldina (Germany).	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/milner-award/
Annual	Royal Society	Rosalind Franklin Award and Lecture	The award is supported by the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills (BIS) and is named in honour of the biophysicist Rosalind Franklin, who made critical contributions to the understanding of the fine molecular structures of DNA. The first award was made in 2003. The medal is of silver gilt and is accompanied by a grant of £30,000. The recipient of the award is expected to spend a proportion of the grant on implementing a project to raise the profile of women in STEM in their host institution and/or field of expertise in the UK	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/rosalind-franklin-award/
Annual	Royal Society	The Royal Medals	Each year two medals are awarded for the most important contributions "to the advancement of Natural Knowledge" in the physical and biological sciences respectively. A third medal is awarded for distinguished contributions in the applied sciences. The Royal Medallists will each be presented a medal of silver gilt, and a gift of £10,000.	30 January 2017	https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/awards/royal-medal/

Annual	British Computer Society	Lovelace medal	The Lovelace medal is presented to individuals who have made an outstanding contribution to the understanding or advancement of computer science. It is a senior award to celebrate all contributions to computer science, which should be interpreted broadly (for example, academic, industrial or teaching contribution to computer science, computer engineering or informatics). The expectation is that it is given to an academic or industrialist with a direct connection with the UK. Candidates nominated will automatically be considered for three years. The nominator will be invited to update the application each year and also given feedback when the committee judges the application to be unlikely to succeed.	30 January 2017	http://academy.bcs.org/content/lovelace-medal
Annual	British Computer Society	Roger Needham award	This award was established in memory of the late Professor Roger Needham, and is made annually for a distinguished research contribution in computer science by a UK based researcher who has completed up to 10 years of post-doctoral research.	30 January 2017	http://academy.bcs.org/content/roger-needham-award
Annual	Biochemical Society	Colworth Medal	This recognises outstanding research by a young biochemist. The award includes a £3,000 honorarium	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/TheColworthMedal.asp
Annual	Biochemical Society	Novartis Medal and Prize	This recognises contributions to the development of any branch of biochemistry. The award includes a medal and a £3,000 honorarium.	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/TheNovartisMedalandPrize.aspx
Biennial	Biochemical Society	Keilin Memorial Lecture	The lecture will be delivered on a subject relating to bioenergetics, electron transfer and mitochondrial biology. The lecturer will receive a medal and an honorarium of £2,000.	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/KeilinMemorialLecture.aspx
Biennial	Biochemical Society	GlaxoSmithKline Award	This recognises distinguished research in the field of biochemistry leading to new advances in medical science. The winner will receive a glass sculpture and an honorarium of £2,000.	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/TheGlaxoSmithKlineAward.aspx
Biennial	Biochemical Society	Morton Lecture	Funding recognises candidates who have made an outstanding contribution to lipid biochemistry. The lecturer will receive an honorarium of £2,000, and is invited to submit an article to a society-owned publication	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/awards/themortonlecture.aspx
Annual	Biochemical Society	Centenary Award	This recognises a biochemist of distinction from any part of the world. The award is worth £3,000	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/TheCentenaryAward.aspx
Annual	Biochemical Society	Early Career Research Awards	These recognise the impact of research carried out by early-career scientists related to genes, energy and metabolism, signalling and biotechnology. Awards are worth £1,000 each.	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/EarlyCareerResearchAwards.aspx
?	Biochemical Society	Industry and Academic Collaboration Award	This recognises an outstanding individual who has made an inspirational contribution to the biosciences and to industry-academia interactions. The recipient of the award will deliver a lecture at a society meeting, receive an honorarium of £200 and is invited to submit an article to a society-owned publication	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/IndustryandAcademicCollaborationAward.aspx
Annual	European Association for Theoretical Computer Science (EATCS)	Computer Science (EATCS) Gödel Prize (together with ACM SIGACT)	The Gödel Prize for outstanding papers in the area of theoretical computer science is sponsored jointly by the ACM SIGACT. This award is presented annually, with the presentation taking place alternately at the International Colloquium on Automata, Languages, and Programming (ICALP) and ACM Symposium on the Theory of Computing (STOC). Nominations may be made by any member of the scientific community. A nomination should contain a brief summary of the technical content of each nominated paper and a brief explanation of its significance. A copy of the research paper or papers should accompany the nomination.	31 January 2017	http://eatcs.org/index.php/goedel-prize
Annual	Biochemical Society	The Heatley Medal and Prize	The Heatley Medal and Prize is awarded for exceptional work in applying advances in biochemistry, and especially for developing practical uses that have created widespread benefits and value for society, and so have enhanced the reputation of biochemical research as a source of wellbeing and prosperity. The recipient of the Heatley Prize receives the medal, an honorarium of £2000. A prize lecture is given at a Biochemical Society conference, and award winners are invited to submit an article to a Society-owned publication	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards.aspx
Annual	Biochemical Society	The AstraZeneca Award	This award, generously supported by AstraZeneca, is made every 3 years in recognition of outstanding work which, through biomedical advances, leads to development of a new reagent or method. The research should have been carried out in a UK or Republic of Ireland laboratory. The awardee receives an honorarium of £2000 and is asked to give a presentation at a Biochemical Society conference. The awardee is invited to submit an article to a Society-owned publication.	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/AstraZenecaAward.aspx
Annual	Biochemical Society	The Thudichum Medal	Thudichum Medal Lectures were inaugurated in 1974 to honour eminent scientists who have made outstanding contributions to neurochemistry and related subjects. Professor J.L.W. Thudichum (1829-1901) was a pioneer of brain chemistry over a century ago. For more information, see a history of the Thudichum Medal Lecture. From 2015, the Thudichum Medal Lectures will honour eminent scientists who have made outstanding contributions to neuroscience and related subjects. The recipient of the award receives the Thudichum Medal and an honorarium of £2000. The medal lecture is presented at a Society conference and the awardee is invited to submit an article to a Society-owned publication.	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/TheThudichumMedalLecture.aspx
Annual	Biochemical Society	The Sir Philip Randle Lecture	The Sir Philip Randle lectureship is awarded biennially to a scientist from any part of the world. The awardee is selected on the basis of their contribution to the understanding of mammalian metabolism. The lecturer will be awarded an honorarium of £2000 and certificate. The awardee is invited to submit an article to a Society-owned publication	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/TheSirPhilipRandleLecture.aspx
Annual	Biochemical Society	The Biochemical Society Award	The Society's Council introduced this award in 2001 with the intention of widening recognition of excellence to span more diverse fields of endeavour within, or related to, the biochemical sciences	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/TheBiochemicalSocietyAward.aspx
Annual	Biochemical Society	International Award	New for 2018, the International Award will be presented annually and recognizes distinguished and independent interdisciplinary research that illustrates the importance of the molecular biosciences in the advancement of life sciences research.	31 January 2017	http://www.biochemistry.org/Awards/InternationalAward.aspx
Annual	Institute of Mathematics and its Applications	IMA Leslie Fox Prize for Numerical Analysis	The prize honours "young numerical analysts worldwide" (any person who is less than 31 years old). The call for papers is now open and is managed by the Committee via an external website	31 January 2017	http://people.maths.ox.ac.uk/wathen/fox/prize.php
Annual	Institute of Physics	Issac Newton Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for world-leading contributions to physics (any nationality). The medal will be gold and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate. The award winner is invited to give a lecture at the Institute.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/newton/page_38400.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Paul Dirac Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for outstanding and sustained contributions to theoretical (including mathematical and computational) physics. The medal will be gold and shall be accompanied by a prize of £1000 and a certificate.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/gold/dirac/page_38427.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Michael Faraday Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for outstanding and sustained contributions to experimental physics. The medal will be gold and shall be accompanied by a prize of £1000 and a certificate	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/gold/faraday/page_38445.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Richard Glazebrook Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for outstanding and sustained contributions to leadership in a physics context. The medal will be gold and will be accompanied by a prize of £1000 and a certificate	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/gold/glazebrook/page_38436.html

Annual	Institute of Physics	Katharine Burr Blodgett Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for outstanding and sustained contributions to the organisation or application of physics in an industrial or commercial context. The medal will be gold and accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/gold/burr-blodgett/page_38458.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Lawrence Bragg Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for outstanding and sustained contributions to physics education and to widening participation within it. The medal will be gold and will be accompanied by a prize of £1000 and a certificate	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/gold/bragg/page_38627.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	William Thomson, Lord Kelvin Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for outstanding and sustained contributions to public engagement within physics. The medal will be gold and will be accompanied by a prize of £1000 and a certificate	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/gold/kelvin/page_38636.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Theoretical, mathematical or computational physics	The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to theoretical, (including mathematical and computational) physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate. Annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years).	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/theoretical-physics/page_38584.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Astrophysics and plasma physics subject award	Fred Hoyle Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to astrophysics, gravitational physics or cosmology. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate. Cecelia Payne-Gasposchkin Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to plasma, solar or space physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/astrophysics-and-plasma/page_38552.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Nuclear and particle physics subject award	One annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years) Ernest Rutherford Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to nuclear physics or nuclear technology. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate. James Chadwick Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to particle physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/nuclear-and-particle/page_38526.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Condensed matter, materials, surface and nanoscale physics subject award	One annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years) Nevill Mott Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to condensed matter or materials physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate. David Tabor Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to surface or nanoscale physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/condensed-matter-and-nanoscale/page_38567.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Soft condensed matter and life sciences physics subject award	One annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years) Rosalind Franklin Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to physics applied to the life sciences including medical and biological physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate Sam Edwards Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions in soft matter physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/soft-condensed-matter-and-life-sciences/page_38535.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Atomic, molecular, optics and quantum technologies	One annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years). Thomas Young Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to optics, including work related to physics outside the visible region. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate. Joseph Thomson Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to atomic (including quantum optics) or molecular physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/atomic-molecular-optics-quantum/page_38608.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Applied and environmental physics subject award	One annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years) James Joule Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to applied physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate. Edward Appleton Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to environmental, earth or atmospheric physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/applied-and-environmental-physics/page_38559.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Industrial application of physics subject award	One annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years) Denis Gabor Medal and Prize The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to the application of physics in an industrial, commercial or business context. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1000 and a certificate. One annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years).	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/industrial-application-of-physics/page_38544.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Lise Meitner Medal and Prize	Physics education and widening participation within it and public engagement within physics The award shall be made for distinguished contributions to public engagement within physics. The medal will be silver and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate. One annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years)	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/widening-participation-public-engagement/page_68106.html

Annual	Institute of Physics	Marie Curie-Sklodowska Medal and Prize	Physics education and widening participation within it and public engagement within physics	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/subject/widening-participation-public-engagement/page_68106.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	James Clerk Maxwell Medal and Prize	One annually awarded from 2017 (previously odd and even years). The award will be made for exceptional early career contributions to theoretical (including mathematical and computational) physics. The medal will be bronze and will be accompanied by a prize of £1000 and a certificate.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/early-career/maxwell/page_38656.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Henry Moseley Medal and Prize	The award will be made for exceptional early career contributions to experimental physics. The medal shall be bronze and shall be accompanied by a prize of £1000 and a certificate	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/early-career/moseley/page_38648.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Clifford Paterson Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for exceptional early career contributions to the application of physics in an industrial or commercial context. The medal will be bronze and will be accompanied by a prize of £1000 and a certificate	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/early-career/paterson/page_38665.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Jocelyn Bell Burnell Medal and Prize	The award shall be made to a woman who is within five years of the award of her first degree in physics (Bachelor's or Master's), not including career breaks, and is either working as a physicist or engaged in postgraduate study in physics, in recognition of a substantial contribution to physics and work to support and encourage others in the field.	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/early-career/bell-burnell/page_67977.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Daphne Jackson Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for exceptional early career contributions to physics education and to widening participation within it. The medal will be bronze and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/early-career/daphne-jackson/page_67980.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Mary Somerville Medal and Prize	The award shall be made for exceptional early career contributions to public engagement within physics. The medal will be bronze and will be accompanied by a prize of £1,000 and a certificate	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/early-career/mary-somerville/page_67987.html
Annual	Institute of Physics	Honorary fellowship	The Institute of Physics seeks help in identifying exceptional individuals for the award of its highest honour, Honorary Fellow. An Honorary Fellow may have contributed to physics generally or the work of the Institute in a number of ways and if successful will act as an ambassador for the Institute of Physics	31 January 2017	http://www.iop.org/about/awards/hon_fellowship/page_38720.html
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Prize in Computing	Nominations will be reviewed for the candidate's personal contributions to a major innovation that has impact on computing theory or practice. While a sufficient amount of time must have elapsed for the degree of impact to be assessed, the contribution should be relatively recent (typically within the last decade or so). While there are no specific requirements as to age or time since last degree requirements, the nominee typically would be approaching mid-career. Nominators are advised to review the list of previous winners of the award to gain an impression of its scope and nature.	31 January 2017	http://awards.acm.org/acmprize/nominations.cfm
Annual	Royal College of Ophthalmologists	Fight for Sight Award	This recognises a significant piece of research in the field of ophthalmology. The award is worth £5,000	01 February 2017	https://www.rcophth.ac.uk/professional-resources/awards-and-prizes/
Annual	Royal Academy of Engineering	Rooke Award	The award is normally awarded to an individual, small team or project based in the UK that has supported the Academy's aims and work through their initiative in promoting engineering to the public.	13 February 2017	http://www.raeng.org.uk/grants-and-prizes/prizes-and-medals/other-awards/rooke-award
Annual	Royal Academy of Engineering	Sir Frank Whittle Medal	The medal is awarded to an engineer normally resident in the UK whose sustained achievements have had a profound impact upon their engineering discipline. (Previously known as the Sustained Achievement Award).	13 February 2017	http://www.raeng.org.uk/grants-and-prizes/prizes-and-medals/individual-awards/whittle-medal
Annual	Royal Academy of Engineering	RAEng Engineers Trust Young Engineer of the Year	With the generous support of the Worshipful Company of Engineers, the Academy is making five awards of £3,000 each year to UK* engineers in full time higher education, research or industrial employment, who have demonstrated excellence in the early stage of their career (defined as less than ten years since graduation from their first degree in engineering or equivalent qualification). From these five awardees, the Academy's Awards Committee will select an overall winner who, in addition to his / her cash award, will receive the Academy's highly acclaimed Sir George Macfarlane Medal	13 February 2017	http://www.raeng.org.uk/grants-and-prizes/prizes-and-medals/individual-awards/raeng-engineers-trust-young-engineer-of-the-year
Annual	BBSRC	Innovator of the Year Awards	These recognise the successes of BBSRC-supported scientists in delivering economic or social impact from their research. Each category winner receives a prize of £10,000. An overall winner across the categories will also receive a further £10,000.	15 February 2017	http://www.bbsrc.ac.uk/innovation/maximising-impact/fostering-innovation/innovator-of-the-year/
Annual	Royal Geographical Society	Gold Medal - Founder's and Patron's Medals	Gold Medal - Founder's and Patron's Medals for the encouragement and promotion of geographical science and discovery. The two Gold medals are both approved by Her Majesty The Queen	27 February 2017	http://www.rgs.org/AboutUs/Medals+and+awards/Nominate+your+choice.htm
Annual	Royal Geographical Society	Victoria Medal	Victoria Medal for conspicuous merit in research in geography	27 February 2017	http://www.rgs.org/AboutUs/Medals+and+awards/Nominate+your+choice.htm
Annual	Royal Geographical Society	Busk Medal	Busk Medal for conservation research or for fieldwork abroad in geography or in a geographical aspect of an allied science	27 February 2017	http://www.rgs.org/AboutUs/Medals+and+awards/Nominate+your+choice.htm
Annual	Royal Geographical Society	Murchison Award	Murchison Award for publications judged to contribute most to geographical science in preceding recent years	27 February 2017	http://www.rgs.org/AboutUs/Medals+and+awards/Nominate+your+choice.htm
Annual	Royal Geographical Society	Back Award	Back Award for applied or scientific geographical studies which make an outstanding contribution to the development of national or international public policy for applied or scientific geographical studies which make an outstanding contribution to the development of national or international public policy	27 February 2017	http://www.rgs.org/AboutUs/Medals+and+awards/Nominate+your+choice.htm
Annual	Royal Geographical Society	Cuthbert Peek	Cuthbert Peek Award for those advancing geographical knowledge of human impact on the environment through the application of contemporary methods, including those of earth observation and mapping	27 February 2017	http://www.rgs.org/AboutUs/Medals+and+awards/Nominate+your+choice.htm
Annual	Royal Geographical Society	Gill Memorial Award	Gill Memorial Award for the encouragement of geographical research in early career researchers* who have shown great potential (* defined as within 10 years of completing their PhD	27 February 2017	http://www.rgs.org/AboutUs/Medals+and+awards/Nominate+your+choice.htm
Annual	Royal Geographical Society	Honorary Membership	Honorary Membership for outstanding services and contributions to a geographical dimension of public life	27 February 2017	http://www.rgs.org/AboutUs/Medals+and+awards/Nominate+your+choice.htm
Annual	Royal Geographical Society	Honorary Fellowship	Honorary Fellowship for service to the cause of geography or to the work of the Society. (* It is expected that a recipient's activities over a number of years will have resulted in a substantive benefit to the discipline of geography or to the Society, beyond any contribution arising from the recipient's regular employment)	27 February 2017	http://www.rgs.org/AboutUs/Medals+and+awards/Nominate+your+choice.htm
Biennial (even years)	Institute of Mathematics and its Applications	Christopher Zeeman Medal	The Christopher Zeeman Medal has been created to recognise and acknowledge the contributions of mathematicians involved in promoting mathematics to the public and engaging with the public in mathematics in the UK, and demonstrate that such activities are valued by the societies and the mathematical community at large and are a part of a mathematician's roles and responsibilities.	28 February 2017	http://www.ima.org.uk/about_us/awards_and_medals/christopher_zeeman_medal.cfm.html
Biennial (odd years)	London Mathematical Society	David Crighton Award	The silver gilt medal is awarded to a mathematician who is normally resident in the mathematical community represented by the two organisations for services both to mathematics and to the mathematical community	28 February 2017	https://www.lms.ac.uk/prizes/ima-lms-prizes
Annual	British Science Association	Award Lectures	The Award Lectures aim to promote open and informed discussion on issues involving science and actively encourage scientists to explore the social aspects of their research. The nominees should be active, early career researchers who are skilled in communicating their research	06 March 2017	https://www.britishsociety.org/award-lectures
Biennial	SPIE	Joseph W Goodman Book Writing Award	A new biennial award funded by J.W. and H.M. Goodman. The award recognizes authorship of an outstanding book in the field of optics and photonics, published in the last six years, that has contributed significantly to research, teaching, or the optics and photonics industry. This award is co-sponsored by SPIE and OSA	TBC	http://spie.org/about-spie/awards-programs/current-award-winners/joseph-w-goodman-book-writing-award
TBC	Pharmacy Research UK	PRUK Research Award		TBC

Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Eckert-Mauchly Award	Administered jointly by ACM and IEEE Computer Society, the ACM - IEEE-CS Eckert-Mauchly Award is given for contribution to computer and digital systems architecture where the field of computer architecture is considered at present to encompass the combined hardware-software design and analysis of computing and digital systems. The award is presented in June of each year at the International Symposium on Computer Architecture and is accompanied by a prize of $5,000.	30 March 2017	http://awards.acm.org/eckert_mauchly/nominations.cfm
Annual	Cancer Research UK	Lifetime achievement in Cancer Research Prize	This honours an individual who has demonstrated a lifetime commitment to the fight against cancer and has made exceptional advances in the field. The prize is worth £25,000.	31 March 2017	http://www.cancerresearchuk.org/funding-for-researchers/our-funding-schemes/lifetime-achievement-in-cancer-research-prize
Annual	Cancer Research UK	Translation Cancer Research Prize	This recognises the cutting edge breakthroughs of an outstanding research team that has united in the quest to ensure scientific discoveries benefit patients and the public. The prize is worth £25,000 and the recipient team will also receive free attendance at the National Cancer Research Institute annual conference for up to five team members.	31 March 2017	http://www.cancerresearchuk.org/funding-for-researchers/our-funding-schemes/translational-cancer-research-prize
Annual	Cancer Research UK	Future Leaders in Cancer Research Prize	This recognises individuals who have demonstrated the potential to achieve world-leading status by producing research of international quality. The recipient receives a prize of £10,000, and up to three awards are available per year.	31 March 2017	http://www.cancerresearchuk.org/funding-for-researchers/our-funding-schemes/future-leaders-in-cancer-research-prize
Annual	Cancer Research UK	Pontecorvo Prize for Best PhD Thesis	This is awarded to a CRUK funded student who has produced the best PhD thesis and made the most outstanding contribution to scientific knowledge in their field of research, leading to publications in major peer reviewed journals. The prize is worth £500, and winners will have free entry to the National Cancer Research Institute conference.	31 March 2017	http://www.cancerresearchuk.org/funding-for-researchers/our-funding-schemes/pontecorvo-prize-for-best-phd-thesis
Annual	Cancer Research UK	Rising Star in Research Engagement Prize	This recognises an individual who has demonstrated exceptional commitment to stimulating enthusiasm and interest in cancer research among the general public. The prize is worth £1,000, and may be used to support, develop or extend public engagement activity, or to undertake training relating to public engagement	31 March 2017	http://www.cancerresearchuk.org/funding-for-researchers/our-funding-schemes/rising-star-in-research-engagement-prize
Annual	British Ecological Society	Marsh Book of the Year Award	This recognises a book published in the last two years that has had the greatest influence on ecology or its application. The award is worth £1,000.	03 April 2017	http://www.britishecologicalsociety.org/membership-community/honours-awards-and-prizes/marsh-book-of-the-year-award/
Annual	British Ecological Society	Founders' Prize	This recognises an early-career ecologist who is making a significant contribution towards the science of ecology. The prize includes an honorarium of £500 and a certificate.	03 April 2017	http://www.britishecologicalsociety.org/membership-community/honours-awards-and-prizes/founders-prize/
Annual	British Ecological Society	Marsh Award for Climate Change Research	This recognises contributions to climate change research. The award is worth £1,000.	03 April 2017	http://www.britishecologicalsociety.org/membership-community/honours-awards-and-prizes/marsh-award-for-climate-change-research/
?	Weston Brain Institute	Outstanding Achievement Award	To honour an investigator in the UK who has made exceptional advances in the field of translational research to accelerate the development of therapeutics for neurodegenerative diseases of aging. The winner of this prestigious award will receive a £25,000 prize.	03 April 2017	http://westonbraininstitute.ca/award-2017/
Annual	Association for Computing Machinery	Gordon Bell Prize	The ACM Gordon Bell Prize is awarded each year to recognize outstanding achievement in high-performance computing. The purpose of the award is to track the progress over time of parallel computing, with particular emphasis on rewarding innovation in applying high-performance computing to applications in science, engineering, and large-scale data analytics. Prizes may be awarded for peak performance or special achievements in scalability and time-to-solution on important science and engineering problems. Finalists present their work each November at the annual SC Conference, and the award is presented at the SC Awards Ceremony accompanied by a prize of $10,000.	15 April 2017	http://awards.acm.org/bell/nominations.cfm
